School Trio Retains Own Counsel In Court Suit

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

The issue of the town's indemnity in legal proceedings seems in doubt this week, as school committee members named in a civil rights suit, have rejected a Boston attorney whom Town Manager J. Maynard Austin was prepared to name to defend them.

Meanwhile, former School Committeemen John F. Lyons and John G. Wragg announced Wednesday that they had retained the firm of Atwood, McGrath and Wright of 500 Boylston St., Boston to defend them in the suit brought by former Assistant Supt. of Schools Edward F. Regan.

Both members were on the board when Regan was refused reappointment to the administrative post in April, 1974. George F. Olesen, the third member named in the suit and still serving on the board, has indicated that he also will retain his own counsel.

Refusal of the offer of counsel by the trio would result in the three members having to pay for their own defense in the case, as well as be liable for any damages assessed.

The suit seeks damages of $150,000 stemming from the refusal to reappoint Regan, failure to grant him a public hearing and state reasons why and alleged irregularities in preparing to make the official vote in April, 1974.

Regan contends his reputation has been damaged with the result he had not been able to obtain employment.

No Appointment

Following a closed door session of the selectmen and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin Monday night, lasting almost an hour, Austin reported he was not prepared to make an appointment of special counsel to defend the three school committee members.

The selectmen had the appointment on their agenda and had intended to act on approval of the manager's appointment of special counsel.

The selectmen are of a general feeling that the three are entitled to counsel, and should accept the appointment made by the manager. Only the manager has the authority to appoint counsel, with the approval of the selectmen, to defend any town related actions.

Tuesday, Austin, explaining why he could not make an appointment, said "I don't want to get into public controversy on this matter. But the facts are that I have offered the three men a Boston attorney, a very competent trial lawyer and a legal scholar.

"They apparently find this unacceptable.

"I am withholding the attorney's name in favor of not subjecting him to public exposure in a case in which he may not be involved. Also, there may be other occasions when the town may wish to call upon his services, and rejection, for whatever reason, could well deny us his services."

The manager said he had conferred with the three men cited in the court suit in an attempt to reach a compromise on an attorney, but to no avail.

Apparently the manager's choice or choices are unacceptable to the trio and the administrator is not satisfied with the choices offered him by the three.

Austin said it was too bad the trio felt the way they did, and that possibly the administration was not working in their interests, in their opinion.

But, the manager noted, it is in the interests of the town to properly defend the trio, since the town is a corporate citizen in vitally involved in the ultimate outcome.

Informed of the intent of the three to retain their own counsel, Austin said he would withhold further comment on

Retain Counsel

In a statement released Wednesday by Wragg and Lyons, the two former school board members indicated their retention of the Boston law firm, and pledging to "fight this suit to a satisfactory conclusion to preserve their reputations."

Their statement:

"Former Andover School Committee members John Wragg and John Lyons have selected the firm of Atwood, McGrath and Wright of 500 Boylston Street, Boston as legal counsel to represent them in the law suit initiated by former Assistant Superintendent Edward Regan.

"Both Mr. Wragg and Mr. Lyons have given unstintingly of their time and energies with the best intentions in service to Andover.

"Many issues sparked varied view points. On occasion, in the best interests of the Town and following the basic premises on which they were elected, they were called upon to make difficult decisions unpopular with certain elements in Andover. For this they were made to suffer indignities to themselves and their families. They are now totally resolved to fight this suit to a satisfactory conclusion to preserve their reputations.

"They are confident this will be done when the court is told the complete story and those who have over-reached themselves, those who have over-stepped the bounds of decency and those who have conspired to intimidate will be required to give an account of their actions."

Olesen had previously indicated that, regardless of what the town does in the way of providing counsel, he would have his personal attorney representing him in the case.

The Gold Badge Of Retirement

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton presents retired Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole with a gold badge noting his leaving the department as well as appreciation for the 32 years of service to the fire department. Deputy Cole was honored at a testimonial dinner dance at the Andover Country Club Tuesday night.

Medallion Honors Family Contributions To Andover

Andover's Bicentennial Medallion, designed by Laura R. Allis of Andover, represents Samuel Phillips and his son, Samuel Phillips, Jr. on the obverse side with the Seal of the Town of Andover on the reverse.

Although currently known primarily for the founding of the academy bearing their name, Samuel Phillips and his son were in their day prominent citizens and politicians who were deeply involved in the revolutionary movement. From an early date the father was Town Clerk and Treasurer, the town's representative in the General Court, a justice of the peace and Governor's Councillor.

His son followed in his footsteps as Town Clerk and as representative in the General Court, then became a senator, a justice of the Court of Common Pleas and Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth.

There were many other offices of responsibility that these men filled, as well as the establishment of a gunpowder mill to provide gunpowder for the Continental Army and sea forces in 1776 and then the establishment of Phillips Academy in 1778, which taken together made it clear to the Bicentennial Commission that these men were without a doubt most deserving of being commemorated at this particular time.

Samuel Phillips and his son were associated with all parts of the original town of Andover which at the time of the Revolution embraced not only the present town, but also the town of North Andover and that part of the city of Lawrence which lies south of the Merrimack River.

Orders for the medals can be given to Col. E.M. Harris at 475-5925. Delivery is expected soon after Nov. 1.

Remembrance

Caroline Fleischman is presented carnations by members of the Andover Center Merchants as part of the annual Sweetest Day observance conducted by the Andover Chamber of Commerce. Jeff French and Paul Gymrek, co-chairmen of the center group made the presentation. For the second yeayear, the Chamber has observed Sweetest Day -- set aside to remember senior citizens, persons in nursing homes -- just a day to take a moment to remember someone.

Lane Appointed Council Chairman

The Massachusetts Hospital Association (MHA) board of trustees, announces the appointment of William L. Lane of Andover, director of Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen, as the new chairman of their Health Services Council.

Lane, a community leader in Greater Lawrence, will chair a council which will advise MHA trustees about specialized in and out-patient hospital services in Massachusetts, the outreach of hospitals to neighborhood health centers, nursing homes and community mental health centers, the social role of hospitals in alcoholism, drug addiction and battered children, the preventive and treatment programs in the field of psychiatry and the State Department of Mental Health.

The advisory councils are part of a reorganization of the MHA to meet growing demands of health care delivery.

Massachusetts Hospital Association (MHA) is a resource, advisory and information center in Burlington which serves 188 institutional members in the state, including short and long term hospitals, health planning agencies and a variety of professionals and businesses involved in the complex field of health care.

Lane, the first layman to head Bon Secours Hospital, operated by the Congregation of Bon Secours, is president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, treasurer of the Greater Lawrence Red Cross Chapter, a director of the Greater Lawrence Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board, president of the Greater Lawrence Day Treatment Center for Adults and a director of St. Ann's Home, Methuen.

The hospitals have combined resources through MHA to receive a variety of services more efficiently. MHA assists hospitals with health facilities planning, disaster and emergency planning, legislative relations, research and reimbursement. The association conducts the largest hospital based, shared computer program in the country.

In September 1822, the first Labor Day celebration was held in New York City, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U.S. Labor Department.

Record Collection Of Paper

The last newspaper collection week in the Andover Recycling program was the largest ever, with over 51 tons collected. The veritable mountain of paper, magazines and corrugated material, collected in a single week represented a considerable saving, both from an ecological standpoint, as well as financially.

The price of collected paper has doubled since the first of October going from $5 to $10 a ton, which is an encouraging sign.

The recycling program is running along smoothly and the town manager is pleased with the results, particularly the recent record amount of paper collected. The volume of glass and tin being collected has also risen, for which the recycling committee has expressed its pleasure to the townspeople for their co-operation.

Honored For Service To Hospital Boards

W. Clare Brooks, 71, of Andover, was honored by his colleagues on the Joint Hospital Corporation, for his years of service in health care, on the eve of his retirement from the board last Friday.

Brooks, general manager of the Merrimack Valley Works of Western Electric until his retirement in 1964, resigned from the board last month and is resigning from the Lawrence General Hospital Board of Trustees.

He will be leaving the Greater Lawrence area for Delray Beach, Fla. soon.

The retiring hospital board director, received tributes from Publisher Irving E. Rogers and Robert L. Gable, on behalf of the directors of the joint hospital corporation.

He was also presented a silver candy dish and a formal resolution honoring him for his service to the community.

Joshua L. Miner, a Lawrence General trustee, will replace Brooks on the joint hospital board.

W. Clare Brooks

Brooks served as treasurer of the Joint Hospital Corporation from 1969 to 1974 and assisted the corporation in raising $3 million in pledges to improve health care facilities at Bon Secours and Lawrence General hospitals.

Booth President Of MV Philharmonic

James A. Booth of Andover has been elected president of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society for the 1975-'76 season. Booth was named at a recent meeting of the board of directors, which also elected Harry Turner, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Duncan, second vice president; Mrs. Rita Cohen, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Perreault, corresponding secretary and Paul Hershon, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loomis of Boxford were elected to the board of directors and Dr. Nina E. Scarito was designated as an honorary director.

Dr. Scarito was presented a plaque and gift by newly elected President Booth, in appreciation of her service over the past three years.

The 1975-'76 series includes four concerts scheduled for: Sunday, Nov. 9, Sunday, Dec. 14 and Sunday, March 7, all at 3:30 p.m. and Wednesday, April 28, at 8:15 p.m.

Information concerning tickets for the concert series may be obtained by writing to M.V.P.S., Inc., Box 410, Andover, Mass., 01810. Individual tickets for each concert will be available at the door, the day of the concert.

The annual Symphony Ball will be held at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn, Andover, Saturday, Oct. 25 with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. with dancing to Viennese music by members of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Domenic Teoli, concertmaster. Dance music in the modern style will be played from 9:30 p.m. to midnight directed by Paul Hershon.

Reservations are still available and may be obtained from any member of the committee which includes James A. Booth, Miss Emma DeFelice, Mrs. Anthony Ippolito, George Marotta, Paul Hershon, Mrs. Samuel Cohen, Mrs. Frank Duncan, Miss Mary Lanigan, Dr. Nina E. Scarito, Harry Turner, Mrs. Alfred Conconi, Mrs. William Heath, Mrs. James Loomis, Mrs. Domenic Teoli and Robert Vaughan.

Mrs. Rees On China Study Tour

Caroline B. Rees, 6 Hidden Field, Andover, is now in China for a three-week study tour conducted by the U.S.-China People's Friendship Association. After two days in Tokyo to recover from the time change, the tour is visiting Peking, Tangshan, Shashiyu, Tientsin, Tsinan, Nanking and Shanghai.

The leader of the tour, Allyn Rickett, is Professor of Chinese Studies and Modern Chinese at the University of Pennsylvania. He and his wife, Adele, are co-authors of the book, Prisoners of Liberation, which tells of their imprisonment in China in the early 1950s.

Mrs. Rees did graduate work in Asian Studies at Yale University, and after moving to Andover she was an assistant professor at Bradford College, teaching Asian history, literature and philosophy. Her interest in Asia began when she served with the Red Cross for a year in Korea at the end of World War II. In early 1973 she spent five months in India, Burma, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam.

Mrs. Rees is expected to return to Andover Nov. 1, after which she will describe her China experience in speaking engagements before interested groups or organizations.

Leaders Training

Aquatic Leaders of the Andover-North Andover YMCA are taking advantage of opportunities for advanced training which are scheduled throughout the program year. Most recent was a YMCA Institute for Pre-School Swimming Instructors conducted for the Eastern Mass. YMCA Cluster at the Melrose Y. Local YMCA Aquatic Director Elaine M. Kent was responsible for the program and Bevolyn Oliver also served on the staff. Local attendees included Shirley McDowell, Mary Dow and Barbara DeNitto.

A Cluster YMCA Basic Aquatic Leaders Training Course was conducted at Lynn on Sept. 20. Serving on the staff were Elaine Kent and Dick Cate of the local YMCA staff. Also at Lynn on the 21st was a Cluster program consisting of an Institute for training of YMCA Swimming Instructors. Elaine Kent and Marilyn Fitzgerald were staff members. Newell Hurt and Chris Cushing attended the Basic Course, also.

An Institute for YMCA Life Saving is scheduled to start Nov. 10, and an Aquatic Instructors Institute and an Aquatic Directors Institute will both be conducted at the Andover-North Andover YMCA for all Eastern Mass. Associations on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. Other Institutes for the near future include one for Synchronized Swimming at Cape Ann on Jan. 10, Springboard Diving Instructors at Andover-North Andover Feb. 28, for Handicapped Swimming Instructors at Woburn on April 3 and 4. Institutes in Basic YMCA Aquatic Leadership will be available at Needham starting Dec. 3 and at Framingham on May 1; Institutes for YMCA Swimming Instructors will be conducted at Needham starting Jan. 7 and at Framingham on May 8. A training program in Cardio - Pulmonary Resuscitation is scheduled at Andover starting Nov. 13 and another at Needham starting Jan. 28. The Regional YMCA Aquatic School will again be conducted at June either at Springfield College of Colgate University.

Experiment Station National Landmark

The Lawrence Experiment Station on Shattuck Street, Lawrence, was dedicated Tuesday as a National Historic Civil Engineering Landmark by the American Society of Civil Engineers.

William M. Sangster of Atlanta, Ga., president of the 70,000 member national organization was present at the ceremonies to affix a bronze bicentennial plaque to the building.

Accepting the plaque were Joseph McCarthy of Andover, who served as chief of the station from 1910 to 1962 and Dr. John Delaney, present chief of the station.

Abel Wolman, professor emeritus of Sanitary Engineering, Johns Hopkins University, considered the leading expert in water supply, was the principal speaker.

The laboratory, established in 1886 by the State Board of Health was the first one of its kind in the world dedicated to research on the treatment of drinking water, sewage and industrial waste and has been internationally recognized as initiating the science of Sanitary Engineering.

The present station, located three quarters of a mile from the original site, on the banks of the Merrimack River, is the major environmental sampling laboratory for the Commonwealth.

It constantly monitors the quality of drinking and bathing water, and water pollution in the rivers, streams and ponds as well as industrial wastes and toxic metal activity. In addition, the laboratory has been heavily involved in the detection and control of the recently discovered paralytic shellfish poisoning, commonly referred to as "Red Tide."

Seniors Commended

Fifteen seniors at Andover High have been named Commended students in the Merit Program by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

Principal Philip Wormwood announced that the following students received Letters of Commendation:

George H. Bragdon
Natalie A. Gardner
Joanne Hochschwender
Elliot Kaplan
Mark S. Koromhas
Janette E. Krull
Peter J. Melko
David M. Mirisola
David N. Need
Stephen V. O'Connell
John A. Parrotta
Kirk D. Richmond

Catherine Sagaser
Albert J. Stebbins
Harold J. Webber

These students are among the 35,000 Commended students named nationwide on the basis of their high performance on the 1974 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test / National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). Commended students represent less than 2 per cent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1976. Although Commended students ranked high on the PSAT/NMSQT, they do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition because their scores were just below those of the 15,000 Semifinalists publicly announced by NMSC in September. Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "The high standing of Commended students in the Merit Program shows their great promise, and their attainment in this nationwide competition deserves public recognition. Commended students should be encouraged to continue their education. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their further educational and personal development."

Annual Fair Set For West

Regardless of the weather, Saturday, Nov. 1, promises to be a day of fun for all members of the family at the West Elementary School-Fair.

There will be hot dogs, cotton candy, cold drinks to devour; and home baked goodies including bread, cookies, cakes and home preserves as well as pickles to bring home.

Major attractions include numerous games with prizes, pony rides and antique cars. A give-away drawing will be held every half hour.

Plan on doing some early Christmas shopping, either at the White Elephant table where mystery items will be offered; or at the Crafts table where you will find large and small stuffed animals, painted rocks, bean bags, hand-knit articles as well as decoupage items and hand-made Christmas decorations.

Anyone interested in donating articles for the White Elephant table can drop them off at the West Elementary school office.

Desjardins Certified

Jerry Desjardins, Turn O' Th' Way, Hudson, N.H., a French language teacher at Andover High School, has just received a certificate qualifying him as a Certified Graphoanalyst. The International Graphoanalysis Society, based in Chicago, Ill., granted the certificate to Desjardins after he successfully completed an 18-month extension course in the techniques of scientific handwriting analysis.

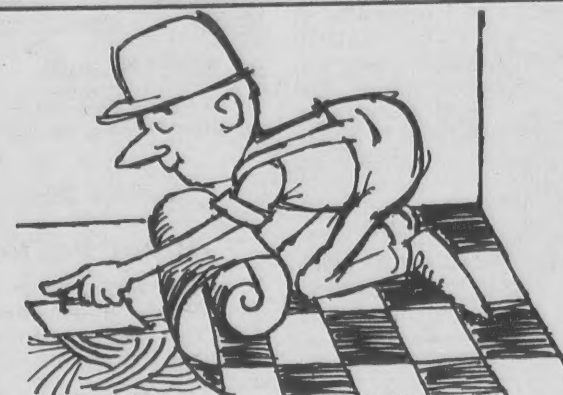

A Certified Graphoanalyst is trained to identify personality traits in people without the necessity of meeting them, using samples of their handwriting for analysis purposes.

Desjardins is also a member of the Andover Educational Assoc., Mass. Educational Assoc., National Education Assoc., Acc'n of Teachers of French, the American Council of Teachers of Foreign Languages, and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

The multiple jobholding rate for men, at 5.8 per cent, remained substantially higher than the rate for women, 2.9 per cent. Men 25-54 years old and married men continued to have the highest multiple jobholding rates.

Ragtime Ensemble Concert To Benefit ABC Program

Gunther Schuller, president of the New England Conservatory of Music, will conduct his Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble at Andover's Sheraton Rolling Green on Friday, Nov. 8, at 8:30 p.m. Beneficiary of the concert will be Andover's A Better Chance Program (ABC).

Mr. Schuller, the 108-year-old conservatory's ninth president is a renowned musician, composer, arranger, teacher, writer and conductor. He is best known to the general public, however, as the conductor and originator of the popular Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble, which has received nationwide fame. The group has recently released another ragtime record to join the two popular hits already on the market.

Tickets for the Pops-style concert are available from the ABC Fund-Raising Chairman Douglas Mitchell or from Robert Henderson at the Andover Savings Bank.

Outing Club Is Active

The Outing Club of the Andover-North Andover YMCA under Club Coordinator Ted Taylor is conducting bi-weekly programs for YMCA boys and girls in grades 4-9. Interested individuals may enroll for the program at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

This weekend, postponed from last weekend when heavy rains made the outing less than appetizing, an overnight trip is scheduled under the leadership of Ted Taylor and Peter Oliver. Planned are climbs of Mt. Willey, Mt. Tom and Mt. Field.

The Fall Term program opened on Sept. 28 with a one-day program when, divided according to experience and ability, Club members climbed either Mr. Cardigan or Mt. Garfield with trip leaders Ed Condon and Ted Taylor. On Oct. 4 and 5 Club members in various groupings climbed Mt. Isolation, Mt. Washington and Boott Spur. Trip directors included Bob Kent and Chuck Pelz.

On Nov. 1 and 2 the Club will participate in a two-day bicycle trip with Dick Chapell and Bruce Johnson. On Nov. 8 the term program will conclude with a rocket shoot and cook-out for which Club members are presently constructing their rockets. In charge of the program will be Club leaders Dick Chapell, Dot Santuccio and Louise Adams. The Outing Club also engages in a Spring Term program which starts in April, and details will be released in the YMCA Spring Term folder.

About Ragtime

"If you are alive to impulse, you felt the ground move under your feet, and you dropped into sublime reverie." This extravagant language is credited to John Stark, St. Louis music publisher and was found in a 1904 ad for a Scott Joplin rag orchestration.

Although Stark was known for his flamboyant use of the language, he was accurately expressing his feelings and those of most of the audience who had heard Joplin play. "The Cascades," a rag he had written to commemorate the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. Feelings came up quite often when trying to describe the effervescent, sometimes melancholy music called ragtime, that had America dancing and listening at the turn of the century.

Ragtime had its roots in music that American Blacks and slaves brought with them from West Africa. One key political factor caused it to be Afro-American music - the outlawing of the drum. This was done for the very political reason that the drum played an important part in several slave revolts.

O.M. Walton, in his book, "Music, Black, White and Blue," says "The enforcement of an anti-drum law in the United States made it necessary to transfer the function of the drum to the feet, hands and body by way of Spirituals during the slave era and by way of instrumental music after the civil war."

Black ragtime composers took the music they heard around them - Spirituals, Field Ballads, Minstrels - and organized it into a permanent written form. Ragtime is not improvisatory like jazz; but allows the tradition of folk-derived music; it states its theme and repeats it exactly, in an "aesthetically interesting structure."

Although many men, black and white, took part in the flowering of ragtime (1895-1915) three men are generally considered to be responsible for the style known as classical ragtime, Scott Joplin, James Scott and Joseph Lamb.

Piano Trio In Concert

The Music Department of Phillips Academy will present The Andover Piano Trio in a concert in Addison Gallery on Sunday, Oct. 26 at 3:30 p.m.

This trio is a new group in the New England area, with its performance base more or less centered at Phillips Academy. The pianist, Barbara Kautzman, and the cellist, William Thomas, are both members of the music faculty at the academy. The violinist, Gerald Elias, is currently the youngest member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The Andover Trio actually had its start at the Oberlin Conservatory in 1971 and 1972, when Mr. Elias, Mr. Thomas and Miss Kautzman first began playing together. The trio continued to play together on several occasions after that, but never came together for consistent work again until this fall.

Mr. Elias, the violinist in the group, received his Master of Music degree from Yale University. He has also studied with Ivan Galamian and Joseph Silverstein. Mr. Thomas, the cellist, is currently chairman of the Music Department at Phillips Academy. He is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and received his Master's degree from Pennsylvania State University. Miss Kautzman, pianist, is currently finishing her Master's work at the New England Conservatory. Also a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory, she has been associated with the Fellowship Program at Tanglewood and has been employed as a teaching assistant at the University of Louisville.

The program for this recital will be Mozart's Piano Trio No. 4 in G, K. 564, and Schubert's Piano Trio in E flat, op. 100.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Preschool Begins Year

Ballardvale Preschool began this school year with an open house recently. This is an annual event which gives both the children and parents an opportunity to become acquainted with the school and its staff, Mrs. Joyce Witover, teaching director, and teachers Mrs. Jeanne Mackay and Mrs. Lorna MacIntyre.

Ballardvale Preschool offers separate classes for three and four year olds. Both classes meet on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings at the Ballardvale United Church.

Children enrolled in the four year old class this year are: Nicole Adams, Mark Amirault,

Scores Vs. Wesleyan

Andover's Lyman Bullard started at striker against Wesleyan in the 1975 Harvard Soccer season opener. Bullard was instrumental in the Crimson's 3-0 victory, as he scored one goal on a 35 foot drive into the upper right corner of the goal.

The former Berkshire athlete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bullard, 107 Highland Road, Andover. Bullard is majoring in history at Harvard.

Ice Cream Smorgasbord

Relating Experiences In India

Maureen Gannon, center, Andover High student who studied in India this past year, related some of her experiences, in costume, to members of the Andover Chapter, American Field Service Tuesday night. With Miss Gannon are Mrs. Nina Asgeirsson and Mrs. Ann Carlstein.

'Impressions Of India' Part Of AFS Event

The Andover Chapter of American Field Service will hold their annual international dinner Thursday, Nov. 6 at 6:30 p.m. at the Vo-Tech. Tickets are available through AFS board members, at Thompson's Stationery store of Andover and at Birch Drugs in the North Andover Mall. There are reduced prices tickets for students and senior citizens. Following the dinner the Andover High school singing groups will present a concert and Maureen Gannon will share her "Impressions of India."

Maureen Gannon, Andover High school senior, was an AFS student in India this past summer. "Best experience of my life," is the way Maureen speaks of her trip. The extremes of wealth and poverty existing side-by-side, the male dominance with separation of sexes on buses, in stadiums and at religious ceremonies, the superstitious nature of their religion and the high heat with daily temperatures of over 100 F. are all features of India which struck Maureen as so different from life in Andover and the United States. Maureen says she fell in love with India, her people who are warm and friendly, and her culture with the many beautiful, ancient temples.

At present AFS has another Andover student, Bill Kenney, spending the year in Chile. He will be returning home in January. Thorkil Tottrup from Denmark is an AFS student spending the current school year in Andover while attending Andover High school.

The annual AFS dinner is the main fund raising event of the year for the Andover Chapter with proceeds going to further student understanding and appreciation of life in countries other than their own. As Maureen Gannon relates her good will ambassadorship to India, "I tried to dispell the 'Ugly American' image. Many people in India think we're all CIA agents, the streets of New York City are paved with gold, American youth is frustrated, and we have no loving family life." Through the AFS program, personal contact helps to break down such walls of misunderstanding.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, about 3.9 million workers held two or more jobs in May 1975, approximately the same number as in the preceding May.

Bowdoin Scholars

Three area residents have been designated James Bowdoin Scholars at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine.

Karen L. Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Erickson, 56 Ballardvale Road, Andover, Douglas G. Merkel, son of Mrs. Barbara L. Merkel, 1 Standish Circle, Andover and Daniel Merkel of Groton, and Samuel J. Popkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Popkin, 27 Royal Crest Drive, North Andover, were among the 167 undergraduates who received the honorary scholarships for their academic achievements.

Dr. Roger Howell, Jr., president of Bowdoin, presented the scholarships during traditional James Bowdoin day ceremonies at Pickard Theater on the campus of Maine's oldest college.

The scholarships are given annually to members of the college's three upper classes in recognition of high scholarship in their courses to date.

Reporting On Our Downtown

Andover Likes Downtown Merchants Are Told

Andover's downtown merchants have received a vote of confidence from the residents of the community who have approved overwhelmingly the present concept of a single downtown shopping area in a survey.

But, Phillip B. Herr, consultant to the planning board, advised the Andover Center Merchants at their Fall Dinner meeting last Wednesday, the survey should be used as a starting point for an overall study of the central business district and its relationship to overall Andover planning.

Herr was the principal speaker at the dinner meeting at Valle's which was visited by Andover, England Mayor and Mrs. Lance Barrett and presided over by Andover Chamber President Atty. Andrew Shea.

The central business district survey was taken along with the state census last Spring, through a questionnaire distributed to all homes in Andover. Over two-thirds of Andover's residents responded to the questions, and by a four to one vote gave approval of the present downtown area, and cited a need for more public transportation.

Additional parking facilities are also favored, but not at taxpayer expense, the survey showed. No shopping malls in outlying areas and structurally, the downtown area should remain the same were additional findings of the survey.

Herr told the merchants that the survey supplied the town with some very good insights into the people's desires, but that further dialogue was needed between various groups in the town to adequately plan for the town's future.

While the responses were about what was expected by planners, and represented a planning process now in its initial stages.

To be a useful tool, further meetings should be scheduled by the planning board and other town officials to establish dialogue and determine just what is desired by the people of Andover as they plan for the expansion of the community which is sure to come.

Meetings with such groups as the merchants, actively interested in downtown Andover, citizens living in the downtown area and its environs, the consumers, all groups should have a voice, Herr suggested.

Also there must be determination of the meaning of the response to some of the questions, such as additional parking facilities, without taxpayer assistance, or, what is actually desired in the way of public transportation.

Downtown merchants have expressed an interest in working with the town in establishing the dialogue needed and supplying inputs to aid in the overall central business district planning.

Some indicated the hope that the results of the survey will be utilized and not shelved like other surveys in the past, and are anxious to further enhance the confidence expressed in downtown through the results of the questionnaire.

In other business before the annual Fall dinner meeting, members of the Center Merchants were presented certificates of appreciation for their service over the year and reports given on the various promotions held.

Presented the awards by Chairman Paul J. Gymrek and Chamber President Shea were Christine Cavallaro, Jeffrey S. French, H. Charles Heseltine, Alex Y. Milne, Douglas W. Thompson and John Obert.

An interesting sidelight of the promotional planning for the months ahead was the arrival of Santa Claus this year dependent on the fortunes of the Andover High football team.

A year ago Santa almost clashed with the Super Bowl. This year, Santa is due to arrive in Andover Saturday, Dec. 6, unless the Golden Warriors are again in the Super Bowl, which will result in Santa swooping down Main street on Saturday, Dec. 13.

Christmas lights will be turned on Thanksgiving eve and stores will begin their holiday hours on Monday, Dec. 8, remaining open until 9 p.m. through Dec. 23.

Honored For 25 Years Service

Two Andover residents were honored at a recognition dinner given in Boston by the Raytheon Company honoring employees with 25 years of service.

David C. Batey, 3 Lansbury Lane and William F. Peterson, 47 Abbot St., Andover, were cited by Thomas L. Phillips, Raytheon chairman and chief executive for their service. There were 524 employees honored.

The proportion of all employed persons who held more than one job in 1975, at 4.7 per cent, was also about the same as a year earlier, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

Halloween Program At Museum

There'll be tricky treats and spooky science at Boston's Museum of Science Halloween night.

Friday, Oct. 31 is the night witches, vampires, and other ghouls are expected to be out roaming about. Those who mix science with their spooking will be prowling the halls of the Science Museum and giving a series of programs and demonstrations throughout the evening, beginning at 6 o'clock.

A vampire will be loose in Cahners Theatre, where scenes from the traditional Dracula story will be recreated with the use of special sound, light, and other effects. A scientific explanation of these effects and a clip from the original Bela Lugosi Dracula film will follow.

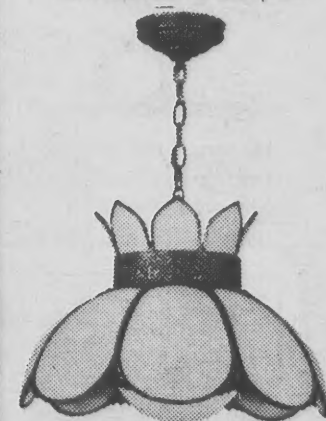

The Well-Equipped Witch will be dispensing scientific sorcery, offering such little-known information as the correct way to make a proper witch's broom. She will also delve into poisonous plants and herbs, prime ingredients in witches' mysterious brews.

As one in a continuing series of weekly Friday evening programs, Family Halloween night is offered at no charge above regular Museum admission. Visitors are invited to join in the spirit of the evening by wearing costumes.

Bicentennial Recital

George Washington Hall at Phillips Academy will be the scene of the bicentennial piano recital of Joseph Schwartz, concert artist, from Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio. The recital will be Saturday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m. He will play Mozart, Copland, Gottschalk and Chopin. Tickets are available at Phillips Academy - extension 121.

Developmental Screening Program To Be Conducted

All Andover three and four-year-olds will have the opportunity to participate in a developmental screening program to be conducted during the weeks of Oct. 27 and Nov. 3.

In order to more fully meet the present and future needs of young children, the school department, the department of public health, and the Andona Society of Andover will conduct a screening at the West Parish Church. This screening will include the following services:

A hearing test conducted by audiologists; Vision screening (lazy eye) by the Andona Society; Lead paint screening by the Andover Public Health Dept.; Developmental Examination by the Andover Public Schools; Speech and Language Examination by the Andover Public Schools.

Mrs. Ross Coon

This screening is a service of combined agencies and organizations of the Town of Andover. There is no charge. Anyone wishing to make an appointment should call the office of pupil personnel at the Jackson School.

Mrs. Ross Coon will direct the Amblyopia (lazy eye) screening for the Andona Society assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Schwartz, Mrs. Richard Asoian and Mrs. Lewis Stella.

This voluntary participation of the Andona Society is part of the Andover Public Schools Pre-School Screening and is jointly sponsored by the Andover schools, Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Andover Board of Health.

To facilitate this part of the screening, it is suggested that it would be helpful if parents could teach their children the "E" game. This may be done easily by using a large capital E and showing him how to point with his hands the way the E points - up, down, right and left.

tainment will be by Myron Florin of Lawrence Welk fame and his orchestra. Total cost of this three day bash is $99, which includes meals, tips and taxes, double occupancy lodging and entertainment. For further details contact The Haven.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Don't forget the Christmas Fair to be held at The Haven, 25 Barnard St., Oct. 30 and 31! In addition to an interesting array of hand-made items, baked goods and white elephants, there will also be a corn chowder luncheon. Bring your contribution, stay to shop and have lunch. The proceeds go toward the various activities at The Haven, or sponsored by The Haven Associates.

There are still tickets for the dinner Nov. 4 to honor Mr. Henry Fredette at the Voke School. Cost is only $1 and there will be transportation from The Haven.

You should make your reservations now for a matinee dinner theater party at the Chateau-de-Ville, Sunday, Dec. 7. Bus will leave The Haven at 10:30. The theater production is entitled, "French Dressing." For further details call The Haven.

Dec. 11 is the date of the Christmas Party sponsored by the Council on Aging. It will be held at West Junior High and will include dinner and entertainment for $3. The menu includes baked scallops and lobster Newburg, and the entertainment is under the direction of Edward Grigoli. Richard Barron is in charge of the food. Make your reservations early. Christmas parties are always popular events, so do not delay in letting them know you plan to attend.

Every month, early in the month, there is a Newsletter published by the Director of The Haven. Stop by The Haven for your free copy so that you will have a calendar of events each month.

Charles Hobrook will be directing a trip entitled "December Fling" Dec. 14, 15 and 16 to Dunphy's Inn in Hyannis. Enter-

Christmas Bazaar Planned

Plans are rapidly unfolding for the Christmas Bazaar to be held in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Main St., North Andover, on Saturday, Nov. 8, from 10 a.m.

There will be lunch under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin Hollins and Mrs. David Hollins; afternoon tea in charge of Mrs. Douglas B. Allan and Mrs. John Livesey; and supper with Caryl Newitt as chairman, Charles Henderson in charge of decorations; Mrs. John Peel, the dining room; Lenley Henshaw, the kitchen; and Mrs. Robert McGibbon, supper tickets.

There will be a bakery and books (all new) table; portraits by Mrs. Frank Lee; plants, candy, white elephants, crafts and Christmas greens (orders taken for later delivery). There will also be a men's table and one by the E.Y.C. The co-chairpersons for this event are Mrs. Robert McGibbon and Mrs. Mary Wingfield.

'Love Loaf' Program To Combat Hunger

The Andover Baptist Church will begin a month-long hunger project next Sunday, Oct. 26, when they will participate in a national "Love Loaf" program.

Small, plastic coin containers, shaped like a miniature loaf of bread, will be distributed to the children and adults of the church at Sunday School and the morning worship service.

These will be kept on the dinner table as a reminder that while we have much, others in the world have little or nothing to eat. As the family thanks God for food and prays for the world's hungry, they also put coins in the Love Loaf each day. Even the smallest child can participate. Even a penny will provide a week's supply of vitamins to someone suffering from malnutrition. A dime will provide a full meal. The children will learn compassion and gratitude.

The Love Loaf containers will be left in the homes for a month and then turned in to the church on Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 23, when they will be broken open and the money counted.

It will be a modern-day version of Jesus' feeding the 5,000 since our goal is to give enough money to help feed 5,000.

During the month, people will be encouraged to miss a meal or even fast for a day to "feel" the problem as well as to help it.

The proceeds will go to the emergency relief ministry of World Vision International, originator of the Love Loaf program. World Vision is a non-profit, interdenominational Christian humanitarian agency that conducts programs of child-care, emergency relief, medical assistance, evangelism and community development in 26 countries. At present it is caring for more than 70,000 needy children throughout the world.

New Officers

The youth group of Faith Lutheran Church has elected new officers for the year. They are: Dianne Clendaniel, president; Martina Stemmler, vice president; and Chris Perkins, secretary treasurer.

The group will meet next Sunday at 5 p.m. at church. They will then travel to the home of Martina Stemmler for pizza and games.

New Members Received At Church

Faith Lutheran Church in Andover received several new persons into membership during Service on Sunday, Oct. 19.

Those received included Mr. and Mrs. James Lavin and their two daughters from North Andover; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kittleson and their two children, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wroldsen and their two children, and Mr. Donald Parkhurst, all from Andover.

Following the Service a coffee hour was held, sponsored by the Fellowship Group, at which time the new members were greeted by members of the congregation.

Warrior Grid Films Wednesday

Andover Booster Club will present every Wednesday evening, Golden Warrior football films, at the Andover High School cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p.m. Coaches are available for commentary and refreshments will be available.

Scores Ace

Thomas W. Gliss of Andover is eligible to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 as a result of scoring a hole-in-one at the North Andover Country Club. Gliss' ace qualified him for the 15th annual Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes, a national competition sponsored by the Drambuie Company of Edinburgh, Scotland.

The winner will be announced early next year.

Reformation Celebration Sunday

Faith Lutheran Church will be sponsoring a Reformation Day celebration this Sunday, October 26th.

The celebration will begin during the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School hour. The children will be given an opportunity to participate in a special Reformation project: making Luther seals, hanging Reformation posters, working on a drama, or making "shoe-box dramas." At the close of the hour, cake will be served as the children celebrate the birthday of the Lutheran Church.

At 11 a.m. the children will then participate in the Service by being part of the orchestra, or the Sunday School choir. Mrs. Molly Rondeau will be directing these groups. Also, during the Service four children will present a drama on the theme, "Faith Active in Love."

Coordinating the arrangements for the celebration are Edith Johnson and Otto Sonnenschmidt. Participating teachers will include Larry Evans, Len Rondeau, Marilyn Seaburg, June Luoto, Annette Ingham, and Friederike Heiter.

Insuring An Apple A Day

Youngsters in the Free Church Cooperative Nursery school recently assured themselves of the recommended Apple A Day through a visit to Applecrest Farm, Hampton Falls, N.H., where they were able to see an apple farm at work, sample cider and pick a bag of apples. Wendy May, at right, quite adequately sums up the feeling of the class, clutching her bag of apples, while at the upper left, Robin Pickup, framed by low branches, is in search of his complement of apples. Lower left shows Stephen Schmidt, Laurie Howe and Jennifer Guerin, happily having completed their work. Others on the trip included Joan Asgeirsson, Jay Butler, Liza DiClementi, Christine Fantin, Michele Giannone, Ardith LaRochelle, Christopher Loader, David McAfee, Karen Maxwell, Amy Mencis, Dana Orlando, Carolyn Oskar, Christian Parker, Kate Robb, Stephen Schmidt. The fall fund raising project of the school will be a table of apple goodies at the Free Church Fair on Nov. 1. Membership for the coming year is now open and parents may contact Kathy Maxwell or Karen Parker, chairmen.

Award, Tour Highlight Of Annual Luncheon

Frederick Winthrop, Jr., Massachusetts Commissioner of Food and Agriculture, will speak at the annual Conservation Award Ceremony of The Trustees of Reservations on Sunday, Oct. 26 in Newbury.

John W. Peirce of Topsfield, president of the Essex County Greenbelt Association, will receive the 1975 Conservation Award at the luncheon ceremony.

Luncheon guests are also invited to tour three historic properties at the Lower Green in Newbury, open for the occasion. They are the Dole-Little House (1670), the Seddon Tavern (1728) and the First District School House of Newbury (1821). Guests may climb Old Town Hill as well with its sweeping view of Plum Island, the Parker River and Ipswich Bay.

Mr. Winthrop, a resident of Ipswich, is former Executive Director of the Essex County Greenbelt. Owner and operator of Turner Hill Farm, he is a breeder of Devon Cattle, a producer of alfalfa, corn, Christmas trees and firewood.

Before and after his graduation from Harvard University in 1964, he served as a railroad gandy dancer, an oil field roustabout and as Projects Officer for Backbay - Orient Enterprises in Thailand. In 1970 he became Assistant to the Executive Director of the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association. He also served as Chairman of the Ipswich Conservation Commission. He was appointed Commissioner of Food and Agriculture in 1975 by his Excellency, Governor Michael S. Dukakis.

The Dole-Little House was built in 1670 by Richard Dole, a leather craftsman. It was purchased by Mrs. George A. Bushee in 1955 and restored by the late Roy W. Baker, Supervisor of Properties for the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities and an authority on 17th century New England architecture. A room from the Dole-Little House is included in the Smithsonian Institution's exhibit of period rooms.

Built by Samuel Seddon in 1728, the First District School House provided food and lodging. It was restored to its original character in consultation with Edward des Jardin, associate of Benjamin Thompson and Associates of Cambridge, Architects. Until this year, the School House served the town as a utility and storage building.

Old Town Hill, some 238 acres, was acquired by The Trustees of Reservations in 1952. The Reservation began as "Hale's Old Town Hill Public Park," owned by Stephen P. Hale, who loved the land and wanted it preserved.

Mrs. George A. Bushee gave the several tracts of land which initially established the Reservation. Through her generosity five acres were added in 1966. In 1973 and in 1974 The Trustees of Reservations acquired some 16 acres of upland and salt marsh once a part of Perkins Farm bordering Old Town Hill Reservation, thanks to the generosity of Dr. and Mrs. Elliott Perkins.

AFS Group To Conduct Conference

The American Field Service International Scholarships is holding a New England conference for field representatives, chapter presidents and delegates on Oct. 25 at the B.U. Osgood Hill Conference center. There will be New York AFS staff participating also at the all day conference.

The purpose of the meeting is to share with the local chapters current program trends and to help chapters in areas of host family finding, student selection, counseling, publicity, fund raising, and volunteer recruitment.

AFS is a program that fosters understanding among people of nearly 60 nations across the world through a program of scholarship for high school students. Outstanding young men and women are brought to the U.S. to live as members of American families, to attend high school and to join in the life of the community. American students are sent overseas on comparable programs.

Local AFS chapter members attending the conference from Andover and North Andover are: Mr. and Mrs. William Birch, Mrs. Frederick Bischoff, Mrs. John Good, Mrs. Robert Klie, Mrs. Robert Fuller, Mrs. Frank Kenney and Mrs. Donald Sagaser.

Mrs. Birch is the AFS area representative and the conference coordinator.

Enrolled At Wentworth

Several local residents have enrolled at Wentworth Institute in Boston for the 1975-76 academic year according to Dr. Edward T. Kirkpatrick, Wentworth president.

The localites are: William H. Ammon, Jr. and Paul H. Austin of Andover, David J. Campagna, Ralph L. Leland, David M. Manzi, Edward T. Riemitis, Alfred J. Torrisi and Timothy F. Willis, all of North Andover.

Circle Works On Fair

The Friendly Circle of the Andover Baptist Church held their October meeting Monday night in the church vestry on Central Street.

The business of the meeting, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Frederick Eastman, primarily concerned plans for the church fair to be held Saturday, Nov. 8, and the balance of the evening was devoted to working on projects for that event.

The Circle serves as a steering committee for the fair but endeavors to involve all societies of the church. Circle member, Helen Towne, is general chairman for the traditional event which has been titled for the fifth consecutive year as "Ye Olde Tyme Harvest Fair," and is held for the benefit of the church mortgage fund.

Candidate Policy Explained For Church

The board of directors of the Unitarian Universalist Church, in view of the church's commitment to the principles of free speech and community service, has announced a policy of availability of its facilities in relation to the 1976 Presidential campaign.

The facilities of the church for open meetings will be made available to any nationally announced Presidential candidate, for the purpose of holding a free presentation and/or forum on platforms and issues.

In making the facilities available, the church is expressing its support for the principles of free speech and a public "right to know," but in no way does this policy indicate an endorsement of any candidate, position, or idea.

Dr. Randolph W. Becker, minister, commenting on the policy, said: "Unitarian Universalism has traditionally believed that all matters of valuing, including religious, social and political ones, are matters of personal choice. But, to be able to make intelligent choices, people need information. This policy seeks to protect our individual rights of support and our need to be informed."

Any and all of the presentations under this policy are open to the public without charge or obligation.

Ski League Practice Begins

Amy Simpson on BWL Course

The Buddy Werner League of Andover will hold its first practice Sunday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to noon at the West Junior High School.

This program is open to children of all abilities up to the age of 15.

The practice session is to promote physical conditioning and to instruct old and new members in technique and safety for downhill competition.

The Buddy Werner League operates under the Andover Ski Club, which is a complete family club. All members will be required to join Eastern Ski Association through the club's treasurer and secretarial offices. There are three categories of membership: Family, Individual Voting and Junior Non-Voting. ESA membership, through the club, offers benefits to members of reduced rates on ESA annual dues, discounts of 10 per cent for club members at participating lodges and ski areas in New England and newsletters of ESA.

Newly elected officers of the Andover Ski Club and BWL are: Peter Price, president; Tom Heislein, first vice president; Tom Lanson, second vice president; Patricia Blackman, secretary; John Ingram, business manager; James Carpentier, treasurer; Ted Sutton, head coach; Bob Thompson and Tom Lamson, assistant coaches.

There are no team "cuts" and all skiers will compete in all races in the regular season. There will be regular meetings on equipment demonstrations, weekly practices and race scheduling for dual meets and the semi-final race.

The Buddy Werner League in Andover, which has grown steadily since 1966, competes against other BWL teams in Eastern Massachusetts.

Last March, the Eastern Mass. team defeated five other Northeast teams and won the Northeast Regional Championships at Pat's Peak in New Hampshire.

AVIS Meeting

The Andover Village Improvement Society will hold its annual business meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at the Christian Formation Center, 475 River Road, West Andover. The business meeting will be at 8 p.m.

Church Hoop League Registration

The Andover Church Basketball League founded in 1946 will be starting its 29th year of providing the youth of Andover a basketball program this year. Registration for this year's basketball program will take place Saturday, Nov. 1 at Christ Church on Central Street between 1 and 3 p.m.

All youth are welcome to sign up, either with their local churches or come to the general registration at that time. Those youth who are not represented by a church are free to sign up and they will be assigned to a team.

Registration fee is only $5 per person, $10 maximum per family.

Gridding In The Rain

In far less than favorable conditions Andover High's Golden Warriors relied on defense to keep its win streak alive at Wilmington. An early third period touchdown was the scoring defense, but some stalwart defensive work was the key to the win. In this Townsman photo by Bill Denoncourt, evidence is given as to the defensive work as a Wildcat runner is stopped in his muddy tracks.

Warriors Battle Weather, Wildcats To Win 6-0

The Golden Warriors of Andover High turned into superb defensive "mudders" Sunday afternoon to pull out a 6-0 Merrimack Valley Conference win over Wilmington.

In gaining the 32nd straight win over a two year period and fifth straight this year, the Warriors had to rely on some stalwart play by the defense and the topnotch punting of Bob Hoelzel, to hold off the Wilmington attack.

Andover High Coach Dick Collins said the game was played on the insistence of Wilmington officials. A steady downpour Saturday and Sunday, which had forced postponement of most of the schoolboy schedule, as well as the World Series, failed to dampen the hopes of Wilmington and the Warriors reported for action.

To keep the string alive would require some superb performances, particularly in light of the absence of Bill Alexander, out for the season with a shoulder injury incurred in the game against Tewksbury a week earlier.

But, Mitch Rousseau, who had stepped in to fill Alexander's shoes capably a week ago, proved his mettle by guiding the Warriors through the one big play they needed.

Early in the third period, Rousseau completed a pass to John Fabiani, who, with an effective block by Jim Deyermund, raced the 32 yards for the only score of the game.

Coach Collins was high in praise of the defensive unit, called upon three times to stage goal line stands.

Hoelzel's kicking also proved a vital difference as he averaged 43.6 yards on the six punts he got off in less than ideal conditions.

Wilmington's first scoring threat came in the opening period when it took the ball from its own 23 to the Andover eight on a series of running plays with Mike Moran and Mark Esposito grinding out most of the yardage.

A failed pass play gave the Warriors the ball at this point and after failing to move, Hoelzel got Andover out of trouble by booming a punt 54 yards, giving Wilmington possession on its own 29.

Andover mounted a scoring threat in the second period with less than a minute left in the half.

Glenn Verrette raced 16 yards on an end around to the Wilmington 30 and a Rousseau to Verrette pass brought the ball down to the nine. After two pass failures, Mike McCormick came in to attempt a field goal.

A bad snap resulted in Rousseau having to jump on the ball and the half ended in a scoreless tie.

After scoring in the opening moment of the third period, Andover's defense was again called upon to shore up the school's extended win streak.

Wilmington had recovered a fumble at the Andover 44. Quarterback Jim Stewart completed two passes to Esposito and Moran bolted for good yardage to the Andover 20.

On a fourth and one at the Andover 11, Moran attempted to gain a first down only to be stopped at the line of scrimmage by Tom Coffey.

Andover was unable to get a drive going and finding themselves stalled on the six-yard line called on Hoelzel to again get them out of trouble, and he responded beautifully with a boot out to the midfield stripe.

Wilmington again mounted a serious threat, with Stewart passing and Esposito running to bring the ball to the nine yard line where again the defense held and Hoelzel 'toed' them out of trouble.

A final Wildcat drive ended with a fumble on the Andover 20 with less than a minute to play.

Beating opponents, weather, and field conditions was a tall order for the Warriors Sunday, but they proved equal to the task.

The team was back in preparation Tuesday for another tough assignment this Saturday afternoon when they travel to Chelmsford in another MV Conference game.

In 1912, Massachusetts adopted the first minimum wage act for women and minors, according to "Important Events in American Labor History."

Men's Hoop League Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Recreation / Community Schools Men's Basketball League will tap off their basketball season with a set of tryouts on Oct. 30 and Nov. 6 at the Andover High School gymnasium. Men who are not on a team must be at one of these tryouts.

Players who work or live in Andover and will be 19 years old by Jan. 1, 1976 and not over age 32 by Jan. 1, 1976, will play in the prime men's division and should meet at the Andover High School gym from 6:30-7:45 p.m. on Oct. 30 for a tryout session. Men who are 33 and over as of Jan. 1, 1976 will play in the gray hair's division and tryout from 7:45-9 p.m. on Oct. 30.

Tryouts on Nov. 6 will find the 33 and over division meeting at 6:30-7:45 p.m. and the 32 and under division meeting from 7:45-9 p.m.

Registration forms for those trying out and all members of teams in the league must sign a registration form and pay a $15 fee at one of these two tryouts. No player will be allowed to play in the opening game on Nov. 13 if he has not passed a registration and fee into league president, Frank Monette prior to Nov. 13. Checks may be made payable to "Andover Men's Basketball League."

Teams wishing to participate in the league should contact Frank Monette, Box 40 Beacon St., Andover, immediately.

Rosters will consist of nine or more players.

All games will be played on Thursday evenings at the high school gym.

Unassigned players after Nov. 6 will be assigned by the league president.

All team managers must have complete roster with telephone numbers, addresses, age and date of birth in the hands of league president not later than Nov. 6.

'Andy 500' Rescheduled For Saturday

Rain has delayed the start of the "Andy 500" which has been rescheduled to begin at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 25. All racers are requested to arrive at 10:30 a.m. for registration and inspection.

The course, located at Poms Pond, is a fast track requiring all cars to have functional brakes.

Competition is divided into three classes: Class I - Grades 1-3; Class II - Grades 4-6; Class III - Grades 7-9.

Each class will race from a different starting line so that children from every grade level may complete the course safely. All cars carrying more than one person will race from the Class I starting line.

The course is now open for practice and racers are encouraged to take practice runs in preparation for the big event.

More information may be obtained by calling the Recreation / Community Schools Department.

Rain date for the event is Sunday, Oct. 26.

Youth Hoop League Tryouts On Weekend

The new Andover Youth Basketball League will hold their first tryouts this Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 25 and 26, at the An-

Open Gym Program Underway

The weather isn't getting any warmer so don't be left out in the cold. Come participate in the activities of the open gym.

SAC at the high school and open gyms at both the junior highs offer fun and exercise to all Andover students during the evening hours.

SAC is the abbreviated form of the term Student Activity Center. Despite popular belief to the contrary, this means the gymnasium is open to high school students during the evening. There is no charge and equipment is available for basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, ping pong and paddle ball at both the high school and junior highs.

The Recreation / Community Schools Department open gym schedule for the fall is: High School, Monday - Thursday, 6:30-9 p.m.; High School, Sunday, 1-4 p.m.; West Junior High, Monday, 6:30-9 p.m.; East Junior High, Wednesday, 6:30-9 p.m.

In addition, Men's Free Play Basketball will be at West Junior High on Saturdays from 12:30-3 p.m.

Swim Team Co-Captains

Colleen Dowd, 46 Farrwood Drive and Nanci White, 27 Bartlet St. have been elected co-captains of the AHS Swim Team.

Both girls also participated in the YWCA Nationals which were held at the Swimming Hall of Fame, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. this past Spring.

AHS Swimmers also walloped Greater Lawrence Vo-Tech recently. Everyone on the team participated in the meet. Colleen Dowd took three firsts: the 100 Freestyle, the 200 I.M. and the Freestyle Relay. Taking two firsts and a second were Carol Belbin: 100 Butterfly, Freestyle Relay and the 200 I.M. Eileen Dow: Medley Relay, 100 Breaststroke and the Diving.

Bobbi Wright and Ann Wright both took two first places in their respective events.

Win Tickets

The Andover Hockey Association, Inc., recently conducted a benefit drawing as prize winners receiving a pair of tickets to a future Boston Bruins home game included: Frank Cote, 9 Linwood St.; Scott Hubbell, 74 Wild Rose Drive; Susan Goldberg, 8 Partridge Hill Road; Peter Reilly, 84 Dascomb Road and Daniel N. Morin, 72 Park St.

dover West Junior High School gym. Players who were unable to register last Tuesday will be able to do so at the first tryout. Any resident of Andover who is at least 8 and not older than 15 as of Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27, 1975, is eligible to participate.

Saturday

Saturday's schedule is as follows: 10 year-olds at 8:30-9:30 a.m.; 11 year-olds at 9:30-10:30 a.m.; and 12 year-olds at 10:30-11:30 a.m.

Sunday

Sunday's schedule is as follows: 13 year-olds at 2-3 p.m.; 14 year-olds at 3-4 p.m.; and 15 year-olds at 4-5 p.m.

Schedules for the second and third tryouts are listed on the registration form. Forms are available at any public school office, Dana's Sport Shop and McDonald's Restaurant.

Fees

The player's fee must be submitted upon registration. The fee for players in the Junior Division (ages 8-9) is $6. The fee for players in the Intermediate Division (ages 10-12) and the Senior Division (ages 13-15) is $12.50. Families with more than two players participating in the older divisions pay only $6 for each additional player.

Features

Every player will receive a jacket patch with the league's insignia before the first game. Players in the Intermediate and Senior Divisions will receive a uniform top with the team name, color and number which he keeps at season's end. Players will receive a booklet including team and individual player statistics and, hopefully, every team's picture. Weekly game results and statistics will be posted in the gyms and published in the local newspapers. A banquet, featuring league team movies, is planned for the end of the season. Trophies and other awards will be made for special achievements. A one-on-one tournament will be held in each division. A tournament for teams from various towns is being planned for the Christmas - New Years school vacation. The league will also feature an All-Star Game and a Coaches' Game in each division. Finally, a league All-Star team will be formed for various out-of-town tournaments in March-April of next year.

The Junior Division is being formed as an instructional one with very little emphasis on competitive games. The Intermediate and Senior Divisions will be sub-divided into majors and minors if the total number of players permits. Game play in the older divisions will feature man-to-man defense, with zone defenses disallowed. The league's coaches feel that this will best help the player in his later years at the high school and college levels.

Organization

Planning for the Andover Youth Basketball League began last Spring with coaches Frank Monette, Neil Zimmerman, Eliot Bolan, Philip Puccia, Edward

Kelley and Richard Bardsley, all of Andover. This group felt that there was a need for a more competitive and balanced basketball program in Andover outside of the school programs. Monette, a spokesman for the AYBL, stated that the league does accomplish the objectives in the broadest possible skill categories from both individual player and team standpoints. Response to the new league, Monette reports, is most favorable. The league will hold an open meeting to elect directors in the near future.

Monette stressed the AYBL's emphasis on adult participation in the programs. "The parent who only watches his child play basketball will be missing a big part of our program," he said. "We like the parents - both parents - to participate with their children. There is something for everyone in this program," Monette continued. "We need parents to keep score, others to keep statistics, and others for transportation on tag day and various other functions. No job is unimportant in a program for kids."

Any questions on the AYBL programs may be directed to Frank Monette, Box 40, Beacon St. or Neil Zimmerman, 32 North St.

Selectmen Clarify Sewer Use Charge

The selectmen Monday night clarified the sewer use charge policy and refused to consider sending out new bills, or view the charge as discriminatory.

While some local residents have threatened court action concerning the levy which went into effect with the water bills issued July 1, the selectmen Monday night were making clarifications in an effort to clear any misunderstandings, as well as conform to Environmental Protection Agency regulations.

The charge was adopted at a June 9 meeting. The effective date for the new levy was with the July 1 water bills. This would represent the first six months of the new charge.

The new funds are to make the town's sewer department as self-sustaining as possible and considers the construction and maintenance of the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District plant in North Andover.

There had been some misunderstanding that the charge would go into effect July 1. In essence the July 1 starting date was set to establish a starting point and provide that all residents of the town would pay on an equal basis with their semi-annual water billing.

The other point clarified Monday night, was on orders of the EPA which will not allow the charge to be applied to those not served by the town's sewer system.

Donald T. Coleman told the selectmen that he felt this portion of the charge discriminatory and also argued that the clarification of the starting date of imposing the levy was a change from the June 9 meeting when the policy was adopted.

Chairman Milton Greenberg and Selectman Janet M. Lake tried unsuccessfully, as did Selectman George E. Heseltine, that there was no change in the effective date.

While admitting that possibly there was some misunderstanding about the date and method of imposing the costs, the selectmen emphasized that their action of Monday was only to more fully clarify the issue.

Coleman insisted, however, that there was substantial change and that new water bills should be sent out, to which Greenberg replied, "No way."

Coleman was joined by Albert Lahood of 121 Lovejoy Road, on the charge that the charge is discriminatory.

Lahood said that he felt the taxpayers in general should bear some of the cost of the construction of the regional treatment plant.

It was explained that the EPA would not permit assessing those not on the sewer line.

Lahood stated that he had no objections to paying for being on a sewer line, but felt that in all fairness, all of the residents should be bearing capital costs.

Selectman Alan F. French attempted to explain the rationale behind the application of the new charge, stating that it was long overdue. He said many of us pay for services which we do not use.

French said he and the board were appreciative of the concerns of the residents, but water and sewer commissioners, we are trying to run the department on a businesslike basis."

Coleman said after the meeting that there would be a Taxpayer suit initiated against the selectmen to attempt to have the charge declared discriminatory and invalid.

The use charge is made part of the semi-annual water billing by applying a charge of 30 cents per cubic feet of water used.

The levy had originally been applied to all residents of the town, but the EPA has now exempted those not on sewer lines.

Industries are also assessed, and pay a higher and more substantial cost of construction and maintenance of the regional plant.

MBTA Bill Over Estimate

The selectmen this week are awaiting further investigation of possible increase in the cost of MBTA train service to Andover for the first six months of the year.

The board received a letter from David Gunn of the MBTA, indicating that preliminary figures show that possibly costs for the first six months of the year exceed estimates by $2,000.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reported that State Rep. Gerald Cohen and members of the Andover Rail Committee are conferring with Gunn on the charges.

At a meeting a few weeks ago, local officials were informed by MBTA that an increase could be anticipated due to a new fare structure this past year not meeting expectations.

A subsequent fare plan was reported to offset the deficit in the next six month period.

Viewing Problem In Shawsheen

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin has met with residents of the Shawsheen area who have requested busing for youngsters going to and from the Shawsheen school. School committee Chriam Frank Griggs and Committee Member Elaine Viehmann also met with the manager on the problem, after the school board promised the parents they would approach the town administration on the matter.

Austin, after listening to the concerns about traffic, signals and speed in Shawsheen Square viewed the area twice this week and plans further conferences with Police Chief David L. Nicoll and Safety Officer Joseph Hastings on the matter in an attempt to provide some measure of safety for the youngsters in the area.

Valle's Checks On Sewer Line

a letter was received by the selectmen from officials of Valle's restaurant in West Andover requesting consideration of tying in to the West Andover sewer line when completed.

The restaurant, which is now served by its own elaborate septic system, would have to pay a sewer connection charge, should they be allowed entrance to the line now under construction to the West Andover industrial site.

DPW Director Robert E. McQuade reports that engineering will be done prior to Valle's formally making a request for the tie-in.

The engineering work and costs will be examined and drawn up for consideration by the selectmen in advance of the formal request.

Jurors Drawn

Eight residents were drawn for jury duty at the selectmen's meeting Monday night.

Names drawn included: James J. Caldwell, 36½ Maple Ave.; Charles P. Howe, 142 Hidden Road;

Alfred J. Rouleau; James Letters, 120 Tewksbury St.; Edith Brown, Brown Street; Margaret Gaudette, Elm Street; James L. Butler, 265 Andover St. and Edward J. Stupack, 18 Nutmeg Lane.

Appointed

Charles Rancourt, 5 Vine St., has been appointed to the Recreation / Community Schools committee by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

New Auxiliaries

Nine new members have been appointed to the Auxiliary Police, within the town's Civil Defense Agency. The new members will be utilized during Halloween in an effort to curb vandalism, as well as providing safety measures.

The appointees include: Wanda E. Batchelder, 24 Haverhill St.; James N. Barenboim, 14 Karlton Circle; Gene A. Zalla, 72 Chandler Road; Philip R. Russell, 14 Fleming Ave.; Maynard S. Flynn, 92 Greenwood Road; Donald J. Ward, 60 Woburn St.; Robert C. Hughes, 7 Sutherland St.; Robert L. Merrill, 57 Cross St.; Mark Manley, 40 Amici Way.

New York Effect

The town will be seeking bids on bonds for the trunk line sewer project in West Andover. Bids have been called by Collector - Treasurer Myroin H. Muise and are due, Nov. 12.

Muise reported Monday night that there should be no effect on the obtaining of municipal bonding due to the problems faced by the City of New York.

Had New York defaulted last week, it may have had a substantial effect, but not now.

Also, the collector has been asked to determine what remedial legislation the town could sponsor to prevent having to borrow in anticipation of revenues.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Corruption of the CIA

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Legislators investigating the CIA have admitted privately to us what they refuse to say in public — that past Presidents were fully aware of past CIA abuses and may actually have ordered some of them.

Few of the Senators and Congressmen involved in the investigations want to blame former Chief Executives for the CIA's faults. And the sworn testimony itself is vague. Indeed, there appears to have been a conspiracy to provide Presidents with "credible deniability."

It is clear to those who are looking into the matter, however, that the CIA did not operate without Presidential direction.

The agency, in short, was not out of control. To be sure, some details of their complicated schemes were never discussed with the President. But the general plots and dirty tricks appear to have emanated, for the most part, from the White House.

The abuses grew out of the Cold War, when the decision was made that the CIA should emulate the Russian KGB by intervening in the domestic affairs of foreign governments and assassinating unfriendly world leaders.

The late CIA Director Allen Dulles, say our sources, would visit the White House to brief the President. He would lean back, assume an air of mystery, and explain in an enigmatic way what the CIA was up to. The President would frequently give Dulles general instructions.

The meaning of these roundabout discussions was quite clear, but they left the President in a position to deny any direct knowledge of the CIA's activities.

This loose relationship between the White House and the CIA, say witnesses, continued through the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations. But the President who pushed the CIA to go far beyond its mandate, say our sources, was Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson was convinced that the anti-war protesters who besieged him were stirred up by enemy agents and agitators. The people, he believed, would never turn against him of their own accord.

He instructed the CIA to find the evidence that would support his thesis. Thus began the compilation of dossiers and the massive spying on American citizens. For all their effort, however, the CIA was never able to show that the anti-war movement was supported by enemy agents.

Richard Nixon went a step further: He enlisted the CIA's help in his own domestic political problems.

In June, 1973, he ordered his majordomo, H.R. "Bob" Halde- man, to use the CIA's clandestine activities as an excuse to thwart the FBI's investigation of the Watergate scandal.

Haldeman called CIA Director Richard Helms and Deputy Director Lt. Gen. Vernon Walters to the White House and instructed them to tell acting FBI chief L. Patrick Gray that the bureau's investigation of campaign funds "laundered" in Mexico threatened to expose the CIA's secret operations there.

Walters passed the message to Gray that very day. The corruption of the CIA, guided and encouraged by four Presidents, was complete.

Tax Avoiders: Some American-based companies pay more taxes to foreign powers than they do to Uncle Sam.

That's just one of the startling findings of a new corporate tax study done by Congressman Charles Vanik, D-Ohio. He found that 142 American-based multinational companies paid a total of $14.4 billion to foreign governments during 1974. Yet they only forked over $10.3 billion to the U.S. Treasury during the same period.

Eight giant corporations escaped American taxes entirely. And 18 firms paid under ten per cent of their income in taxes, which is far less than what the average wage earner must pay.

The average corporate tax bill came to 22 per cent of income — less than half of the 48 per cent that corporations are supposed to pay.

All of this tax-avoiding was legal, of course. The tax loopholes written into the law allow the big corporations to escape without paying their fair share.

Diplomatic Pipeline: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, say our sources, has reluctantly decided not to ask for a resumption of military aid to Chile. Such assistance was cut off by Congress last December. He wanted to make the request, but dropped the idea when he heard that Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., would vehemently oppose it.

— Kissinger, meanwhile, is curious over some recent remarks of former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird. The irrepressible Laird toured the Far East a few weeks ago and assured a Taiwan audience that America's relations with the Republic of China are as strong as ever. This is precisely the message that Kissinger, enamored with Red China, did not want delivered. Then Laird stopped in Tokyo and asserted to a group of newsmen that it's about time Congress assumed a stronger role in foreign policy.

— There was apparently a frightening moment aboard the Kissinger plane during one of his recent shuttle flights between Tel Aviv and Cairo. The smell of something burning wafted through his aircraft. After a hasty search, the culprit was finally located. It seems someone was running documents through a copying machine aboard the plane when one of the papers got stuck and began to smolder.

Budget Fuss: Some White House budget experts are grumbling because their superiors have refused to allow the powerful Renegotiation Board more staff members. The board reviews more than $40 billion each year in government contracts. With a few more staffers, they say, they could save the government millions. But the Budget Office has steadfastly refused to put any more auditors on the payroll.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - October, 1900

A grand Republican rally is scheduled for town hall on Oct. 30 with Congressman Knox attending and Professor A.B. Hart of Harvard, noted expansionist speaking. The Andover Brass Band will entertain. The gallery will be reserved for ladies.

"The Tobacco Habit," will be the subject of the sermon by Rev. F.A. Wilson at the special service in Free Church on Sunday.

A transparency with pictures of McKinley and Roosevelt was placed outside the Republican headquarters at the corner of Main and Central streets last Saturday.

Amos Blanchard retired quietly this past week as treasurer of the Boston and Maine railroad. The quiet move from an active life in a most important post, marked the simple taste of one of Andover's foremost citizens.

At Bradlee Hall in Ballardvale, next Wednesday, the Republicans will have a rally. A torchlight parade will precede the event with the Andover Brass Band, the Andover Zouaves, and Phillips Academy Roughriders participating.

50 Years Ago - October, 1925

Ballard Holt and E. Kendall Jenkins, veterans of the Civil War who died this past week, were accorded final honors at Post 99, G.A.R.

Rev. Alfred Clarence Church is installed as the new pastor of Free Christian Church. Dr. J. Percival Huget of Brooklyn delivers the installation sermon.

The earliest snow storm in over 40 years was recorded last Saturday when howling winds accompanied by swirling flakes began about 6 a.m. and continued to about noon.

Phillips Andover Academy has recently acquired through purchase, the historic chair in which Samuel Francis Smith wrote the national hymn, "America." It was sold to the school by Dr. Smith, the last surviving son of the author.

Art Show Open In Lynnfield

The Colonial Restaurant, Lynnfield, will feature an art exhibit by three talented artists during its Fall Art Show. The opening and artists' reception will be held on Sunday, Oct. 26 from 2 to 7. This show will run through Nov. 4 and may be viewed in the lobby of Colonial Restaurant.

A traditional New England fall inspires the assemblage of the humanistic figures by sculptor Polly Egelson with the sensitive watercolors of Cory Staid of Andover, combined with the imaginative use of textures and colors selected by Jane Bickford in her wall hangings. This will present a vibrant display.

Lynn Loscutt of Andover, coordinator, has selected the works of these three artists for this fall collection to suggest the traditional feelings and textures experienced in the glorious October months.

The U.S. Labor Department's Work Experience and Career Exploration Programs is a school-supervised and school-administered program. Conducted experimentally since 1969, the program is now permanent.

Outweighed almost ten pounds to a man, Punchard High put on a good performance Saturday before going down to defeat 12-7 at the hands of Sanborn Seminary.

25 Years Ago - October, 1950

Four Andover boys among the 38 draftees from the Greater Lawrence area who left Tuesday for Camp Devens. They were Joseph L.A. Morin, Albert Washington, Jr., James Bateson and Charles W. Anderson.

Preparations for the first test of the newly organized Air-Ground Observer corps have been completed and the local spotters have been assigned stations for the upcoming drill.

In observance of United Nations Week, the U.S. Flag was flown from town hall Tuesday and town bells were rung for two minutes at noon following the peal of the Freedom Bell in Berlin.

Peter D. Quinn of River Street, Ballardvale, has been appointed assistant building inspector for the town.

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers appeared at the Community Hall in Ballardvale last Saturday to discuss legislative matters with the residents there.

10 Years Ago - October, 1965

The Fish Brook water project is going to cost the town less than anticipated. Bids received this week indicate that the transmission lines and the dam construction will be in the vicinity of $750,000, rather than the million dollars predicted.

A joint session of the selectmen and school committee this coming week will deal principally with school building sites and automating accounting procedures for town and school departments.

Dr. Theodore R. Sizer, dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, has been selected as the keynote speaker for the Andover Educational Conference to be held at Andover High in November.

Officials of the General Services Administration promise Lovejoy Road residents there will be a buffer planting around the IRS property now under construction.

A Mark Of Achievement

Results of system-wide examination of Andover's school children has shown improvement in all areas, and left the administration with some guideposts as to where continued effort is needed.

The scores of the testing administered last Spring were given and explained to the school committee last week. Basically they showed that the school system had reached an established goal of attaining above the 60 percentile in 92 per cent of the areas tested.

More specifically, the tests revealed that in some areas, particularly, the three R's, where prior year tests had shown deficiencies, concentration on improvement has been beneficial.

We consider the achievement of the goals, as set by the Andover school department, significant.

In these past several years, testing, results and performance of Andover school children, has been in a state of controversy -- a matter which has spilled over to elections. Debate on educational philosophies, personal vendettas, rather than businesslike direction of the school administration by some school committee members, have all tended to cloud the real subject of the town's educational system -- instructing and preparing the youngsters for future life.

There have been comparisons of test scores, figures bandied about to prove one's point, based on individual philosophies or feelings.

In view of what has transpired, we are pleased to note that apparently the faculty and administration were at work all the time, doing the job -- shoring up the weak points and making the strong points better.

Testing, in our opinion, is an adequate tool for determining how well a school system is performing. It cannot be applied as a guideline for individual comparisons of achievement.

Nor can school system A be compared to school system B in any area of accomplishment, based on system-wide testing results.

There are too many factors to be considered when making such comparisons.

But, it is possible to find problem areas and devote particular attention to them.

For instance, in Andover, a concentrated effort was initiated to improve spelling programs, with this year's tests showing that the effort was worthwhile.

A special concentrated program was initiated to assist ninth graders with problems in mathematics.

There were other areas where programs were initiated to provide needed improvements, the results of such effort showing in the test results this year.

Despite all this, however, there are those who still insist on comparisons.

For instance, there has been request for comparison of the test scores with a similar battery of tests administered at St. Augustine's.

There is a request for an examination of Andover's performance in the area of college board test scores.

Once again, the aura of comparison is injected in an effort to possibly diminish achievement, or to banter figures about to suit one's specific purpose.

Rather than comparisons, we choose to look upon the specific test scores as a singular mark of achievement.

In view of:

- * A continued controversial political climate involving the school administration and school committee.

- * Continued debate on the merits of particular educational philosophies (open concept vs. traditional system).

- * A continuance over a long period of time of negotiations between the teaching staff and school committee on a new contract.

- * Continued efforts by Andover individuals to portray the town's school system as inefficient, ineffective, and further, to draw national attention to such items.

We find the accomplishments, as registered in the test results to be particularly significant.

It indicates to us that the administration and staff are, somehow, performing the following principal tasks before them:

- * Providing a proper and adequate education for the youngsters of the community.

- * Recognizing weaknesses and devoting attention to correction.

- * Conscious of public desire to provide proper educational opportunities for all.

We feel the staff is well deserving of commendation for their efforts. The achievement test results are indicative of the presence of professional educators who are concerned about their accomplishments, as well as the advancement of youthful scholars before them every day.

Thanks, Red Sox!

It was difficult to tell whether it was shortly before 1 a.m. Wednesday, or the evening rush hour.

The highways in this area were unusually crowded, and some horns shattered the stillness of the night air.

And, if motorists happened to have their FM station tuned to WSSH, "The Impossible Dream," was being played just by accident, since the station's music schedule is taped in advance.

But that was the situation early Wednesday as the Boston Red Sox provided as exciting an ending to a World Series game as anyone could possibly desire.

People had gone to homes, inns, clubs and various locations to take in this "must" game for the World Championship of baseball. They had been rewarded for their faithfulness by this young and exciting ball club with a three-run, tying home run by Bernie Carbo and a game winning blast by Carlton Fisk.

The TOWNSMAN will have gone to press before the first pitch is thrown for the seventh game.

So, we would like to take this opportunity to say to a group of adult males, who rightly revel like children on their accomplishments, regardless of the final game outcome -- thanks.

Thanks for providing us with the opportunity to share in the joys of winning and forget for a while the troubles of the world.

Thanks, Red Sox, for one great season.

What Our Readers Say

Open Letter to Dr. Griggs and the Andover School Committee

The "Traditional School Survey" forced one into an "either-or" kind of decision. While I am in favor of many of the stated characteristics of the traditional school, I am also in favor of many of the interesting, stimulating, and exciting approaches and individualized programs presently found in the Andover schools. Can't we have "the best of both worlds" here in Andover? Or, perhaps we do already.

At South School, where I am a parent and a volunteer, I see many of the characteristics of the traditional school, such as firm discipline, homework, teacher - directed subjects, minimum standards, special consideration for children with special needs, and especially, an organized, orderly atmosphere. AND, I also see and feel an atmosphere that encourages "student interest" which I think is a prerequisite and so important for learning to take place, and is present only when material is presented in an exciting creative way and not just "crammed down a child's throat" for the sake of discipline and expediency.

From my observations, the survey is irrelevant here in Andover. I think that with some thoughtful direction, some rethinking of basic programs, namely the "3R's," and sincere effort, all of the schools in town can have "the best of both worlds." And, I suspect, for the most part, they do already!

My husband and I would be quite opposed to spending tax money on a pilot program featuring a "traditional school," just as we would be quite opposed to spending it on a pilot program featuring an open, ultra-permissive, free school.

I couldn't help but reflect on the irony of one of the traditional school's characteristics which was stated, in short, as follows: "Classes are heterogeneously grouped (mixed abilities). Although individual differences are recognized and provided for... instruction is primarily directed to the group..." My response to that statement is as follows: Andover is a "heterogeneous" town ("mixed" philosophies). Although individual differences are recognized and provided for, programs are primarily directed to "the group," i.e., the heterogeneous mainstream of the parents of this town.

People who advocate either end of the wide spectrum, extreme permissiveness or extreme traditional approaches I think should seek an education of their children privately, in schools that cater to their particular philosophy. Andover tax money, I hope, will be spent not on pilot programs for either extreme, but on strengthening both a well-trained and equipped staff and a well-balanced curriculum that meet the needs and philosophies of the majority of Andover parents who, I believe, are moderate and open-minded in their approaches to life and to education.

Both the old and the new approaches to and philosophies of education have much to offer us. Let's use the best of both in all our schools and not establish programs that further divide and confuse the majority and satisfy only a small, but very vocal minority.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The TOWNSMAN of Oct. 9 in its leading editorial praises Andover's recent town meeting as the best available. However, let's consider more of the record.

Adopted under Article 23 was a bylaw with a loophole. It puts the person making a complaint on the defensive. The building inspector is given the privilege of saying nothing within thirty days concerning a complaint thus making a decision that no violation exists. This fooled one speaker into believing otherwise. He referred to a foregoing statement in the bylaw which says that the building inspector "shall investigate (complaints) and respond... that a violation does or does not exist." But the speaker did not realize that by making no response can be considered a decision that no violation exists. Such double talk may be OK in a set of rules put out by a flim-flam outfit but it has no place in a town's bylaw.

A lawyer, a town official, defended this rule by saying that it was the most economical method for the person complaining if he wished to carry on. But he failed to state that the economy was more than offset by the disadvantages it imposes. Town meeting adopted it anyway. It also adopted another bylaw that makes no distinction between the fee charged commercial and industrial new buildings and that charged residences. This matter was not brought up because the moderator constantly suggests that the meeting must be finished at a certain time. (How nice it shall be when we have a moderator who opens the meeting with a welcome which says this is your meeting. There is no predetermined schedule. Twice a year we gather at your expense and so we hope all will give us the benefit of their opinion.)

The matter of a "radar speed gun" came up. Chairman Greenberg of the selectmen stated that it is difficult to obtain convictions for speeding without such a device and, that thievery and vandalism are not the most serious problem of the town police. But there is an official contrary statement.

On page 19 of the latest annual town report it says that "there were prosecuted 138 cases for speeding during 1973" (Incidentally, can the editor give us the correct number of that sum that were successfully prosecuted?)

This town report also says on the same page concerning house breaks, that "This type of criminal activity is still the number one problem of the (police) department as far as Andover is concerned." But worse still, on the day of the recent town meeting five such breaks were made according to the papers. Knowing of Chairman Greenberg's fine business reputation, all of this makes his word a puzzle in this instance. Does he know what he is talking about?

So it might be that while town meeting may be the best we can obtain, the record of Andover's town meetings also seem to qualify for this title "Overseer of special privileges at the expense of the General Welfare." However appealing that may be to some, it is far from reliable with respect to the common good as is attested to by the constant array of new problems each town meeting spawns for those that follow.

Children's Room News
By Ruth Hooten

Halloween Night is fast approaching. Before we know it, ghosts and witches will be roaming the streets searching for treats or a chance to play a trick. The Children's Room is getting into the mood by decorating the walls with pictures of ghosts, bats, witches and pumpkins. To help you get in the Halloween mood, the movie Ghosts and Ghouls will be shown on Tuesday, Oct. 28 at 3:30 p.m. You are invited to wear your costume and see how many people you can scare (children under six are to be accompanied by a parent, please.)

If you don't have a Halloween costume or you are undecided about what to wear, come to our Mask Making Program on Saturday, Oct. 25 at 10 a.m. We will be making masks out of various materials and, of course, lots of imagination.

Don't forget that on Saturday, Nov. 8 at 2 p.m. we will be having a repeat of July's Karate Demonstration by Larry Giordano and students from his karate school. The last show was very exciting and Mr. Giordano has promised that this show will be even better.

Membership in VIBOR is filling up rapidly, so if you want to join please come to a meeting soon. We will be meeting on Fridays at 3:45 p.m. in the Children's Room. So drop in some day and listen to some really good book discussions.

Permanently. With a method that cures the problem, rather than just controls it. The method is Christian Science.

At the Christian Science Reading Room, you'll find a lot to read that can help you gain a new view of yourself as God knows you—upright, fearless, and free.

Come in and read. Or borrow books, without charge, to read at home.

AHA Application For HUD Funds Gets Approval

The selectmen Monday night reluctantly succumbed to federal bureaucracy and signed an application for the Andover Housing Authority to apply to HUD for a rent subsidy program for the town.

Federal funds in the amount of $90,000 for a five year period were threatened for a time as the selectmen discussed whether it was necessary for them to actually affix their signatures to the application.

Chairman Milton Greenberg explained that he could see no reason for the board to sign, since the housing authority is an elected body in itself and would be in charge of the program.

While the selectmen were not opposed to the federal funding, and welcomed the assistance, Greenberg felt that without time to study the ramifications of the program, he didn't deem it necessary to sign the application.

Thomas Walsh, new executive director of the AHA, and David Scott, a consultant for housing authorities on federal funding, explained that the signature was necessary since the administrative body of the community, in this case the selectmen, must signify to HUD that they are aware of the program.

The signature does not make the board or the town subject to any responsibility of liability, since the program will be administered by the housing authority.

But the signature would indicate the HUD that the board was aware of the program.

After considerable further debate on the matter, the board finally authorized the chairman to sign the document with no strings attached or letters to be sent to HUD.

The program is designed to assist residents in obtaining housing and subsidizing the rental price, should applicants fall into low or moderate income levels.

There are 36 apartments involved in the program.

Checking Final Plans

Mrs. Richard Bartle and Mrs. Robert Jurgen check over final plans for the annual Andona Ball which is set for the Sheraton Rolling Green Friday night, beginning with a champagne social hour, followed by dancing, in a bicentennial motif.

Andona Ball Friday

The ballroom of the Sheraton Rolling Green will be decorated with Williamsburg colors of wedgwood blue, burgundy red and accented by shimmering candlelight and arrangements in pewter bowls Friday night for the annual Andona Ball.

A champagne cocktail party, accompanied by a vast array of hot and cold canapes, prepared by members of Andona will be served from 8:30 to 10 p.m. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the T.H. Hand and Co. band.

Those who have assisted in the major plans for the evening include Mrs. Peter Lewis and Mrs. Michael Fosko, door and invitations; Mrs. Vito Caiati and Mrs. Wilfred Schwarz, refreshments; Mrs. Gerald Reynolds, decorations; Mrs. Richard Reichter, finance and Mrs. Raymond Orrell, publicity. Proceeds from the event are used to assist Andona in aiding the youth of Andover.

Craft, Hobby Show To Be November 8

The "Craft and Hobby Show" at West Parish Church, Reservation Road, Andover, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 8 in Fellowship Hall rather than on Nov. 16 as previously scheduled.

There is table space available for anyone who would like to display a hobby or sell a craft. Please contact Mrs. Gladys McCabe or Mrs. Eda Warwick for reservations or information.

In addition to hobbies and crafts, the Women's Union will have a table of handmade aprons. A New England bean supper with ham, coleslaw and homemade apple pie will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. Advance tickets for the supper can be obtained from Mrs. Lee MacGowan.

Auxiliary To VFW Gets Citation

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Andover Post 2128 Veterans of Foreign Wars met last Wednesday evening and had guests present from Amesbury, District 14 Auxiliary President, Clara Hogan and Jr. Vice President, Constance Wilmot. The local auxiliary received their citation for 100 per cent donations to the VFW Cancer Fund for 1975.

The next District meeting will be held in Haverhill, Sunday, Nov. 9.

Mrs. Margaret Cairnie, Auxiliary Jr. Vice President, is chairman for the Dutchmaid party to be held Nov. 19 at 8:30 in the American Legion Hall, Park Street. Regular meeting is being called for 7:30 that same evening.

Mrs. Anita Jerackas, 1975-76 Cancer chairman is accepting donations and is in hopes of bettering last year's record.

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor was created by Congress in 1920 to formulate standards and policies to promote the welfare of wage-earning women, improve their working conditions, increase their efficiency, and advance their opportunities for profitable employment.

Green Tomato Pie

Pastry for 2-crust pie
6 Medium-sized green tomatoes, sliced
1½ cups brown sugar
3 Tablespoons flour

Dash of salt
¼ cup lemon juice
Few tsps. grated lemon rind (optional)
¼ cup of butter

Mix tomato slices with sugar, flour and salt. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Spoon into pastry lined pie plate and dot with butter. Put top pastry in place and seal edges. Prick crust with fork in several places. Bake in 425 F. oven for ten minutes; lower heat to 350 F. and bake another 35 to 40 minutes. (Makes one pie).

Lamb with Green Beans and Tomatoes (also good with beef chuck)

1¾ lbs. lamb or beef chuck cut in 1½ inch cubes
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil
2 cloves garlic chopped fine

1 large onion, cut up fine
3 large tomatoes quartered
1 cup beef bouillon
1½ lbs. green beans
Salt and pepper to taste
Sweet basil to taste
Mint to taste (optional)

In large pot, melt butter with oil over low heat. Add garlic and onion, and cook slightly, but do not let onions brown. Season the lamb with salt and pepper and add to the cooking pot; brown on all sides over medium heat. Turn down heat, add the tomatoes and ¼ cup beef bouillon. Cover the pot and simmer 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, remove ends from green beans, but leave them whole. After the 30 minutes of cooking time, or whenever lamb is tender, add the beans. Mix in well with wooden spoon, add remaining beef bouillon, and season to taste. Cover pot and cook 30 minutes or until beans are tender. Check seasoning and serve piping hot. (Good with hot Italian bread, with garlic butter if desired.) Makes 4 or more servings.

On Friday, Nov. 7, the Ladies of Merrimack will again present Arthur Fiedler and 70 members of the Boston Pops Orchestra, a benefit event which has become part of the Greater Lawrence social scene.

The concert will be held in the S. Peter Volpe Physical Education building, Merrimack College, North Andover and a reception will be held following the concert for benefactors, sponsors and patrons.

Mrs. William Patterson and Mrs. Lynne McCarthy are co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. S. Arthur McGovern, Mrs. John E. Fenton, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Osborn, Mrs. Richard Harrington, Mrs. H. Frank McCarthy, Jr., Mrs. James Doherty, Mrs. Henry Giconda, Mrs. William Lyons, Mrs. Anthony Bernie, Mrs. Rose DiPaolo, Mrs. Richard O'Hara, Mrs. Albert Blazon, Mrs. John J. Burke, Mrs. Paul Abbondanza, Miss Mary Lynch, Denise Minihan Pingree and Mrs. George Perreault.

Bicentennial Art Exhibit At Brandeis

The Bicentennial tour of 65 original historic drawings by American illustrator Joseph Boggs Beale depicting American life during the 19th century will open in the Dreitzer Gallery at Brandeis University's Spingold Theatre Arts Center in Waltham on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

Entitled, "Star-Spangled History," the collection of the significant 65 wash drawings will continue on exhibit through Nov. 21. The exhibit will be open Tuesdays through Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

This group of drawings is part of the Joseph Boggs Beale Americana Collection of 850 original watercolors owned by the American National Insurance Company and is on tour of 14 key U.S. Cities.

A continuous slide show based on Beale's watercolors will be shown in the exhibition area. Viewers may see dramatic, comic and patriotic views of American history much as their grandparents did. The slide show is accompanied by a spoken narrative and popular 19th century music recorded from an orchestrion - an elaborate mechanical musical instrument and relative of the player piano.

Andover Gardeners Get Award

The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts recently presented the Evelyn D. Cronin Horticulture Award to the Andover Garden Club at its Presidents Conference held in Waltham.

In order to qualify for this yearly award, the Horticulture Committee headed by Mrs. George Bragdon provided the best horticulture programs presented in a series of club meetings and workshops. Mrs. Bragdon and her committee were responsible for the very popular Mini Talks planned in conjunction with the Club's member participation theme "It's All the Little Things You Do." Club members at large were able to participate in a series of horticulture workshops through the well-planned efforts of this committee.

This past June, members completed the workshop series by taking a bus trip to view outstanding gardens and landscape designs. Viewed during the trip were the Moffat-Ladd house and the Fuller Gardens in New Hampshire and, the Cushing House in Newburyport, with its authentic period rose garden.

Harvest Dance

The Athletic Committee of Austin Preparatory School in Reading will sponsor their first Dinner Cance of the year, "The Harvest Dance," on Saturday evening, Nov. 1 from 8 p.m. until midnight at the school.

Dance music will be provided by T.H. & Co., and a roast beef dinner will be served at 9 p.m.

To Study In England

Susan Sodnowsky of Theodore Avenue is one of 21 Lesley College students leaving Oct. 27 for student teaching assignments in England. Susan, an Early Childhood Education Major, will stay at Bradford College, Bradford, England and will be placed in an English school.

Eight students from Bradford College in Bradford, England will visit Lesley College and student teach in Massachusetts schools as part of the two-year-old Student Teacher Exchange Program.

Lesley College prepares 700 undergraduate women to be highly qualified elementary school teachers. In addition, students may specialize in the teaching of reading, day care, early childhood education, teaching the mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed, urban education, and working with children in the community. At the coeducational graduate school, nearly 2000 students comprise a record enrollment. These students may choose to study math, open education, learning disability specializations, arts in education and therapy, women in administrative roles and counselor education.

Polish Folk Art On Display

During the month of October, the Stevens Memorial Library will be featuring a display of Polish folk art. Featured in the exhibit, which is located in the exhibit cases, and also throughout the library, are Polish costumes, carved figures, fabrics, posters, and decorated eggs.

The exhibit also contains examples of Wycinanki. Wycinanki are paper cuttings which are traditionally used in rural Poland to decorate white-washed walls and cupboards.

The Polish exhibit is loaned by Wanda Moswa of the Northern Interrelated Library System, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and Mrs. Madalyn Joyce Sargent of Saugus, through the courtesy of the Eastern Massachusetts Regional Library System.

The public is cordially invited to view this outstanding collection of folk art. Stevens Memorial Library hours are: Monday through Friday, 9 - 9. Saturday, 9 - 5. Sunday, 2 - 5.

Enjoy Garden Year 'Round With Indoor Sunshine

Question: Will plants grown under artificial light do as well as those grown under natural light?
Answer: Find out for yourself by conducting the following simple experiment.

Buy two inexpensive African violets, each at the same stage of growth, in small pots. Put one in a pebbled saucer in a room where it gets little sunlight, but is exposed directly to a lamp light for about 8-10 hours per day. Place the second plant where it can catch some daylight in the room but no lamp light. Otherwise, care for each plant in the same way.

Results? The plant under lamp light, in a short time, will become sturdier and put out new shoots and healthier-looking leaves than the other plant.

This fairly recent discovery has opened up new horticultural possibilities for the gardener, especially the one who wants to plant without regard for season.

A new lighting unit, with a special horticultural bulb, has been developed and is available at most garden centers, but other combinations of fluorescent and incandescent light can also be worked out for successful growing. Different lights produce different rays, and careful control of the amount of each can produce a more effective growing light than straight sunshine.

Since lighting must be fairly close, the size of the plants is limited to short ones; however, the variety of plants that can be grown under lights, including flowering ones, is ample.

Most exciting to some people will be the knowledge that several fruits and vegetables - such as strawberries, lettuce, endive, baby carrots, and radishes - can be grown under artificial lights. Other plants, such as wild blueberries and tomatoes, by being propagated under artificial light, can be more successfully transplanted outdoors.

The American Association of Nurserymen recommends that before you undertake gardening by artificial light, you consult with your local garden center to obtain accurate information on proper lighting as well as the best plants for such growing and their care.

then, this winter, while other gardeners are impatiently longing for the spring thaw, you can be tending your violets or tossing a fresh salad harvested under your indoor sunshine!

Girl Scouts Camp At Nantucket

Thirty-one girls of Cadette Girl Scout Troop 46 spent Oct. 11-13 on Nantucket Island. They carried their equipment on the Steamship Authority ferry at Woods Hole, and used bicycles for transportation on Nantucket.

With adult leaders Mrs. E.L. Danforth, Mrs. Judith Camasso, Mrs. Ruth Thompson and Mrs. Elizabeth Farr, the group lived at Camp Taupashas on a primitive camping site.

While on the island, the Scouts visited the Whaling Museum, a working windmill, and several restored houses. The girls earned the Traveler badge by planning and taking part in the trip. Those girls participating were Pamela Thompson, Lisa Harris, Ruth

Dried Plant Workshop

A special workshop on arranging dried plant material is being planned by Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary for Wednesday, Nov. 5, at the Sanctuary Barn on Perkins Row in Topsfield. The class will begin at 9 a.m. with a short field trip to learn about some of the plants used for arrangements. Back at the Barn instruction will center on basic design, texture, color and general effect. Participants are asked to bring clippers and a container no larger than eight inches at the mouth. All other materials will be provided.

Eastern Star Harvest Fair Is Saturday

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold their annual Harvest Fair on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the Masonic Temple in Andover at 7 High Street beginning at 10 a.m.

Dressage Competition Sunday

The Andover Dressage Club will hold its 1975 Fall Competition on Oct. 26. The show will take place at the Equestrian Shop Ring, Route 114 in North Andover.

Classes will range from Training Level through Fourth Level. There will also be a Senior Dressage Equitation Class and a special Challenge Ride. The event will start at 9 a.m. Further information is available from the club's president, Mrs. Rosita Proulx, Boxford.

The Club held a successful three-day clinic with Karl Mikolka over the Columbus Day weekend. The next clinic will be held on Nov. 9, followed by another clinic on Dec. 13.

There will be a ham and home-baked bean supper with home-made pie for dessert.

Committee chairmen include Isabel Valentine and Marion Henderson for bakery and candy, Georgina Sanborn and Emily Livingston for Attic Treasures, Hazel Hart for gifts, the Past Matrons for hand-made articles, Wendell Clapp and Lenley Henshaw for the Country Store, Gladys Brown for the afghan, and Penny Mitchell for the Rainbow Girls pot-pourri. Mary Henshaw is in charge of decorations.

A fish chowder luncheon will be served by Mary Gates and June Clapp. Supper will be served by June Clapp, Claire Johnson, Lillian LeLacheur, Gladys Brown.

League Urges Continued Revenue Sharing

The Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns is one of the only three state municipal organizations given the opportunity to testify before Congress in support of the reenactment of federal revenue sharing.

The League delegation carries with it resolutions in favor of the extension voted by 236 cities and towns in Massachusetts. The resolutions represent every Congressional district in the state and will be presented to the 12 Massachusetts Congressmen.

"With the Congressional districts in our state receiving an average of $32.5 million during the life of the program, it's clear why this is a very high priority question for us," delegate Robert Hatheway, Legislative Director of the League said. The revenue sharing has enabled many local governments to "hold the line" in tax rates despite the increased pressures of inflation on necessary municipal spending, he added.

The program, which in the five years of its existence will have distributed $430 million to the 351 cities and towns of the state, has the "strongest kind of Presidential support" according to Washington sources, but is having problems in a budget-conscious Congress. Delegates are urging renewal of the revenue sharing act before Dec. 31 of this year, since after that date a new Federal budget act would require Congressional funding for the program annually. This annual funding would take place after local budget setting time, leaving local shares of revenue funds unallocated to the next fiscal year.

The three member delegation appearing before Senator Muskie's Intergovernmental Affairs Committee, includes Mayor Evan Dobbelle of Pittsfield and Mark Shields, Congressional representative for Mayor Kevin White of Boston. They will join James L. Sullivan, city manager of Cambridge and representative of the International City Managers Association, in urging continued federal funding of the revenue sharing program beyond its present expiration date of December of 1976.

A Congressional district breakdown prepared by the League shows the following amounts distributed during the life of the present program. District 1- (Conte) $32 million; District 2- (Boland) $31 million; District 3- (Early) $34 million; District 4- (Drinan) $27 million; District 5- (Tsongas) $32 million; District 6- (Harrington) $35 million; District 7- (MacDonald) $36 million; District 8- (O'Neill) $40 million; District 9- (Moakley) $42 million; District 10- (Heckler) $34 million; District 11- (Burke) $46 million; District 12- (Studds) $41 million.

Also testifying on the revenue sharing issue this week will be representatives from the U.S. Conference of Mayors, the National League of Cities and the Leagues of Cities and Towns of Georgia and North Carolina.

Unemployed Rate Rose In August

The Massachusetts unemployment rate in August rose to a seasonally adjusted level of 13.0 per cent from a revised 12.3 per cent in July, according to John D. Crosier, Director of the Division of Employment Security. Although there was an increase in the number of employed persons and a decrease in the number of unemployed persons during the month, the seasonal adjustment process resulted in an increased rate. Mr. Crosier repeated that the federal programs of extended benefits available this year continue to distort the unemployment rate, since they have attracted back to the labor force many thousands who have not had recent employment and who had exhausted the original claims.

The comparable rate for the United States in August was 8.4 per cent, identical to the July rate. Both national and state trends from July to August were very similar -- slightly better in manufacturing, somewhat worse in construction and service, with the overall improvement.

Total unemployment in mid-August was estimated at 362,600, down about 27,000 from July. Total employment was above 2,429,000 up from 2,421,000 in July.

This reflected an improvement over the July level in non-durable goods manufacturing. Durable goods were generally sluggish, except for instruments, primary and fabricated metals, and some electrical equipment and components. Non-manufacturing industries showed little change, as is usual at this season.

Indian Summer Walk Planned

A special family walk to explore the woods and look for plants and animals used by the Indians is being planned by Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary for Sunday, Nov. 2 at 1 p.m. in Peabody. The Indians who came to the first Thanksgiving dinner will be the object of discussion - their clothing, homes and tools - and everyone, young and old, is urged to join this expedition.

The group is limited to the first 40 who come and there is a small fee for family groups. Meet at the dirt road off Glen Drive. For further information call the Sanctuary office, Tuesday through Friday.

Pumpkins Delicious As Well As Decorative

Bright, yellow pumpkins are a favorite sign of the fall season, and this year's bumper crop in the state is some three million pounds. Retail prices as low as 10 cents a pound make them a nutritional bargain, according to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

While most are purchased for Halloween jack-o-lanterns or fall decorations, pumpkins as a food are a fair source of vitamin C, and an excellent source of vitamin A.

In fact, they are so rich in the latter nutrient that one cup of cooked, mashed pumpkin provides almost three times the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A!

Choose pumpkins with a hard, tough rind that are heavy for their size and free from blemishes. For best storage, keep them at about 50 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit and a humidity of 55 to 60 per cent.

And if you're storing in quantity, pumpkins will keep best when spread out, rather than heaped in a pile!

Pumpkins are a member of the same family as squashes, and cooking procedures are similar to those for winter varieties.

To boil, cut the pumpkin into halves or quarters and then remove the seeds and stringy portions. Cube, pare and cook in a small amount of lightly salted boiling water, covered, for 25 to 30 minutes. Pumpkin is a watery vegetable, so drain, mash well, and drain again to remove excess liquid.

A five pound pumpkin will yield about 4½ cups of mashed, cooked pumpkin.

Pumpkin can also be baked, and one idea is layering pared slices of pumpkin and apples in a casserole dish. Drizzle with melted butter combined with some brown sugar, cinnamon, and chopped nuts if you like. Bake at 350 degrees, covered, for 45 to 60 minutes until tender.

Pie is doubtless the most favorite pumpkin dessert, and remember that the filling can also be baked in individual custard dishes without the rich pastry crust.

Other current best buys in fresh vegetables are winter squashes, cabbage, yellow onions, carrots, celery, broccoli and Maine potatoes. Best buys in fresh fruit are McIntosh and Cortland apples, Bartlett and Bosc pears and fresh cranberries.

Best values in meat and poultry are whole chickens, turkeys, beef liver, ground beef, beef kidneys, beef chuck roasts and steaks.

In fish, best buys are frozen whiting, turbot, cod, pollock, smelts and canned tuna.

Floor Hockey

The Recreation / Community Schools Department is organizing a floor hockey league for students in 4-9 grade. The league will have two divisions grade 4-6 and grade 7-9. The league will begin on Monday, Nov. 3 and games will be played between 6:30 and 9 p.m. at West Junior High. Initial practice will be at West Junior High on Monday, Oct. 27 at 6:30 p.m. There is no registration fee for this league.

Andover Small Engine - Chain Saws, Snow Blowers, Lawn Mowers

It's about that time of year again - time to store your lawn equipment and check on your snow removal equipment! Andover Small Engine Service at 100 School Street (the Railroad Depot) Andover stands ready to serve you in both cases.

Andover Small Engine will pick up your lawn mower and store it for you for the winter months, giving you added storage space in your garage. They will clean and service it during the winter and you can pick it up in the spring (or have it delivered to your home) all serviced and ready to go.

Don't get caught this winter with snow blowers "all sold out" or with yours in need of repair. See Andover Small Engine now, for sales or service on snow removal equipment. They feature Ariens and Bolens, so put one on lay-away now and be ready for the first snowfall. They also service all makes and advise you to bring yours in early if it needs servicing, as an early winter is predicted.

Chain saws are also available at Andover Small Engine. These versatile tools are gaining in popularity with home gardeners and handymen, for pruning, removing hanging branches, etc. Andover Small Engine features the finest - McCulloch chain saws.

They are, in fact, the master servicing dealer in this area for McCulloch. In addition, they service Homelite and other makes and models.

George Vigneault and John Winters, owners of Andover Small Engine, are experienced in repairing all small engines, generators, small cement mixers, anything with a gas engine. It is an authorized Briggs & Stratton and Tecumseh service center.

For information, call Andover Small Engine Service at 475-4525. Master Charge is accepted. Open weekdays 8:30 - 5:30; Saturdays 8 - 12.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF
REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Paul A. Mascitti and Louise M. Mascitti, husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, to Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, dated July 6, 1973, and recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 1222, Page 407, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at two o'clock P.M. on Wednesday, November 19, 1975, at Lot 5 Salem Gardens, North Andover, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit: "A parcel of land together with the buildings thereon in North Andover in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth and being situated on Salem Gardens in said North Andover, more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Being shown as Lot 5 on plan of land entitled "Plan of Land in North Andover, Mass., Scale: 1 inch = 40 feet Dated: October 1, 1972 Drawn by Charles Peterson; Robert P. Morris, R.L.S., 21 Carter Street, Tewksbury", recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Plan #6738.

Being the same premises conveyed to us by deed of Chester C. Sullivan, Trustee of Main Street Realty Trust to be recorded herewith."

Terms of Sale: Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any, which take precedence over said mortgage. Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) of the purchase price must be paid in cash at the time and place of the sale and the balance within ten days at the office of the mortgagee, 210 Essex Street, Salem, Massachusetts.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
October 16, 1975

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Robert E. King and Dorothy J. King, husband and wife, of Andover, County of Essex and State of Massachusetts, to the Andover Savings Bank, a corporation established in Andover, Massachusetts dated September 7, 1971 and recorded at the North Essex District Registry of Deeds, Book 1178, Page 667, for breach of conditions contained in said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, and in accordance with the Decree of Land Court, (case No. 77118-Misc.) will be sold at public auction on the mortgaged premises on Thursday, November 20, 1975 at 11:00 A.M.

The premises conveyed for said mortgage deed, namely, a certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Andover and shown as Lot 2 on "Plan of Land in Andover, Mass., as subdivided by Franklin P. Swain, Jr., September 22, 1965", which plan is recorded with North District of Essex Registry of Deeds as Plan No. 5349, bounded and described as follows: NORTHEASTERLY, by School Street, one hundred fifty-eight and 22/100 feet; NORTHWESTERLY (erroneously described as NORTHEASTERLY in said mortgage), by land of Chenevert, two hundred thirty-three feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY, by land of Higgins and land of Kimball, eighty-five and 70/100 feet; SOUTHEASTERLY, by Lot 1, one hundred ninety-five and 06/100 feet; and EASTERLY, by Lot 1, twenty-two and 26/100 feet. All as shown on said plan and containing 27,690 square feet, according to said plan.

Said premises will be conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes and to any other municipal assessments. A deposit of $1,000.00 in cash or certified bank check will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale and the balance of the purchase money is to be paid within ten days.

BLUEBERRY HILL

It is with excitement that we announce the beginning of construction of homes at Blueberry Hill off Holt Road in the Bancroft School area.

If you are one of those who indicated interest earlier, or are now considering building a new home that will be out of the ordinary, we will be happy to discuss design plans with you.

Our service includes careful development of the land, skillful architectural design and quality construction. It all adds up to a home that will be very personally your own. Choice lots are now available for early selection.

Call us or visit our office for further information.

Cole Honored On Retirement

Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole, who retired this Spring after 32 years of service to the fire department, as well as other town agencies, was honored Tuesday night at a testimonial at the Andover Country Club.

Cole, the last member of his family in active service in the fire department, was the recipient of several gifts and good wishes during the program conducted by Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton.

Chief Hilton, noting the many years of service, presented the retired deputy with a gold badge from the department. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin presented a certificate of appreciation from the town and a citation from the state House of Representatives, introduced by Rep. Gerald Cohen was also presented.

Deputy Chief William Downs, chairman of the affair, presented the honored guest with a watch and Deputy Chief Edward King gave a gift from the Firefighters Union.

Remarks were given by Sidney P. White, former long-time Andover selectman and a colleague of Cole's on the former Board of Public Works and Alex Thompson from the Punchard - Andover High Alumni Association which Cole had served as president.

Also on the speaking program was John T. Cole, a brother, who retired a few years ago as a deputy chief of the Andover department.

Their father, Albert Cole, Sr., was also a member of the department and the first permanent lieutenant.

Welcome Aboard

Owner-president Don Hallock, who often serves as conductor aboard Wolfeborough Rail Road's three-coach excursion train between Wolfeboro and Sanbornville, greets Dr. Robert DeHart, an Andover man who is secretary of the national organization, Veteran Motor Car Club of America. Interested spectator, center, is Mrs. Iona Boutwell, Peterborough, N.H., a passenger on the same trip. DeHart had brought some 50 members of the Colonial Chapter, Veteran Motor Car Club of America, to town.

attempting to reach any understanding in the matter.

It is believed that under the stipulations of the town charter, that refusal of the offer of counsel and relying on attorneys obtained on their own, would result in the three men having to finance the case themselves, as well as any findings.

If they were to accept counsel appointed by the manager, the town would bear the burden of costs and would be able to come to a town meeting to pay any damages assessed the trio.
